LAND

Water is one of our most precious commodities, so in these days of enlightened conservation, conserving our water supplies should be one of our first priorities, and using sullage water on the land is one example of recycling.

Several principles govern the best usage of the water for garden irrigation.

Distribute the sullage water to flat garden areas; avoid steep slopes where run-off may be a problem.

Disperse the waste water over a broad area; avoid concentrating it on a single site. Spraying is ideal on large uncultivated areas.

When available, use fresh water for garden irrigation on a rotating basis with sullage water, to aid in leaching the soil of contaminants.

Sullage water is alkaline. Do not use it on acid loving plants such as rhododendrons, azaleas or citrus fruits. Lawns and deciduous fruit trees may receive sullage water in rotation with fresh water.

If you must use waste water for irrigating food plants, restrict the application to the soil around plants of which only the above ground part is eaten, such as corn, tomatoes or broccoli. Do not apply it to the soil around leafy vegetables or root crops. Best of all, use sullage water for ornamental foliage and use what fresh water is available for your vegetable garden.

Finally, use waste water on well-established plants. Seedlings and houseplants will not tolerate the impurities in household waste water.

POSSIBLE PROBLEMS FROM USING SOAPS AND DETERGENTS

As a general rule, soaps are less harmful than detergents, but sustained use of sullage water containing either one, presents potential problems.

The common problem of soaps and detergents is that they both contain sodium, an element which in excessive amounts is harmful to soils (destroying soil aggregation) as well as to plants (inducing tissue burn). The best strategy is to minimize the use of cleaning materials, and wherever possible choose soap rather than detergent.

Gentle soaps such as soap flakes are preferred to those heavily laden with lanolin, perfumes and other chemicals. Where detergents must be used, select those which do not advertise their softening powers, as softeners are rich in sodium-based compounds.

If you plan on reusing washing machine water, bleach should be minimised or eliminated, and borax-detergents absolutely avoided. Phosphates in detergents are not as great a problem in soil application as they are in sewage discharge into water bodies. Amonia is acceptable in reasonable amounts.

High levels of sodium may be detected by conducting a ph test of the soil using litmus paper (obtained from a pharmacy or nursery). If the reading exceeds 7.5, the soil has become overloaded with sodium. Correct the problem by spreading gypsum (calcium sulphate) over the soil at a rate of two pounds per 100 square feet per month.

Waste water from the shower, bathtub and washing machine can conceivably contain disease causing organisms. When the sullage water is discharged into the soil, however, potentially harmful viruses and bacteria are quickly destroyed by the abundant soil organisms better suited to the soil environment.

If the pathogens were to survive it is unlikely in any case that they would be assimilated by the plant roots. Nevertheless, do not apply sullage water to crops which are eaten uncooked.

SUNDAY SCHOOL

St. Peter's Anglican Church at Fingal have after many years started a weekly Sunday School for children who would be interested in coming along. So far we have five children attending regularly. Our morning church service starts at 8.45am and the Sunday School is incorporated in with the service. You may think 8.45am too early, but think how you then have the rest of the day to do as you wish. The organisers are Norm and Anne Adamczewski who would welcome any new child to participate.

PRIORITY ONE CHOIR

For those who attended the St.
Thomas's Anglican Church at Avoca and heard the performance of the "Jerusalem Passion" were thrilled with the evenings entertainment.
They, all 40, of the singers, were very talented and it was a pleasure to meet them following in the Avoca CWA rooms where hot soup, savouries, teas and coffee were provided by the Avoca parishioners. Thankyou Avoca for the very nice evening.

Swansea C. Forwood 2, J.

Richards 1

Final Score 21-24 to 3-5

RESERVES

After a pretty torrid first quarter with Swansea going in very hard, St. Marys gradually went ahead to score easily by 60 pts. St. Marys were best served by K. Maynard rucking, D. Berwick roving, D. Herring centre and backmen M. Aulich, M. Duniam and S. Bean repelling many attacks and S. Aulich on the forward line doing well.

Swansea...A. White, T. Thompson, T. Stone, T. Bryan

Goals St. Marys D. Berwick 4
(one a real Daicos effort)

Yowart 3, M. Greenwood, G.

McDonald, S. Wines, M. Aulich 2,
L. Spilsbury 1.

Swansea A. Lovett 2, B. Cook,

A. Reed, C. Webb, S. Flyn,

G. Bradfield 1.

Final Scores 17.7 to 7.7

SENIORS

St. Marys proved too fit and talented for their opponents. After leading by 47pts at the long break 9.7 to 1.8 St. Marys ran out winners by 63 pts which is a good victory at Swansea.

Final Scores were 15.18 to 5.15

St. Marys best were R. Salter, one of the best in the association, backmen K. McGiveron, R. Barnes, A. Wright, P. Dakin plus

P. Mason, J. Miles and A. Viney.
a good effort by all.

RESERVES

Campbell Town defeated St. Marys comfortably. After leading 2-7 to 2-3 at half time Campbell Town were too strong and wanted the ball much more than some of their opponents. Both teams were undermanned in this game with quite a few players missing. If some of our players had as much endeavour as Shaun Aulich one of the smaller players on the ground they would go a lot further.

SENIORS

St Marys although without their two top ruckmen proved superior to Campbell Town in this contest.
At half time the home side led by 31 points which was increased to seventy nine at the final siren.
Rodney Barnes filling in as a ruckman was in control all day, Simon Dakin and Brent Leedham controlling both wings, Kirk McGiveron great at full back, a real goer, Andrew Wright a great effort, Andrew Viney eight goals and Andrew House a good effort, overall a good team effort.

PLAYERS

A bit of worry half way through season. Training not as good as it should be, not enough attendance, not enough enthusiasm, not enough talking.

So GET TO TRAINING. GET BEHIND YOUR COACHES AND GET BEHIND YOUR

WEEK TO WATCH YOU PERFORM.

We would all love to win three in a row so let us all pull together to reach this aim.

We will probably never have this chance again. Remember a of champions.

Togetherness is what counts.

WORM RECIPES

These recipes were inspired by the book "How to Eat Fried Worms" by T. Rockwell and are from Mr. Jones' Grade 5/6 class.

KENTUCKY FRIED WORM

INGREDIENTS:

1 Night Crawler
Some herbs and spices
Box of chips
Batter

METHOD:

You take a worm and cover it with your favourite batter. Then you put it in a deep fryer and cook it for about 5 minutes. While it is cooking, put some chips in the deep fryer, grab a can of Pepsi, and then serve it.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS:

Kentucky Fried Worm is served in a box with chips and a can of Pepsi. You can buy it at your local Kentucky Fried Worm takeaway or drive through.

by Anita Peake

So good it's scary!

GRILLED WORMS

INGREDIENTS:

2 Night Crawlers
2 slices of bread
Nutmeg, garlic
Grated cheese
Salt and pepper

METHOD:

Blend worms into paste then spread the paste onto the bread. Sprinkle with nutmeg, garlic, salt and pepper, then the grated cheese. Grill until golden brown.

PREPARING:

Serve on a gold coated plate garnished with chives and parsley.

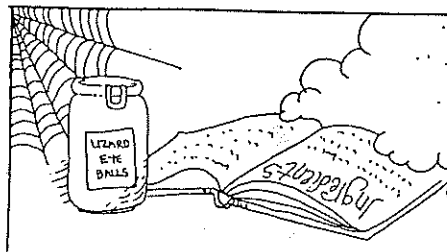

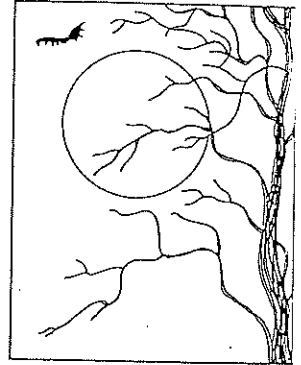

by Sol DeJong

MCWORMBURGER

INGREDIENTS:

Ten Earth Worms
2 slices of cheese
Half an onion
1 tomato
1 bread roll

METHOD:

Cut each worm open and slide finger along the inside taking all the guts out. After mincing the worms and moulding them into a pattie, put 1 slice of cheese on the bottom of the bread roll then some cut up onions and tomato and the other slice of cheese on top. Close the roll and place in microwave on high for five minutes.

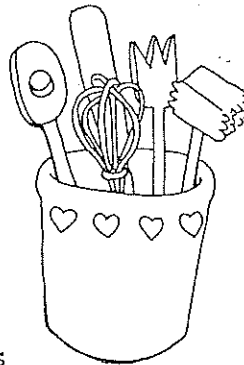

by Russel Smith

WORMS FLAMBE

INGREDIENTS:

2 cups of white wine
15 Earth Worms
2 oz. grated cheese
2 tomatoes, diced
1 rasher of bacon
1 leaf of lettuce
1 chicken stock cube
1 slice of bread crumbs

METHOD:

Carefully sprinkle bread crumbs in wok, lay worms on crumbs, add chicken stock cube, lettuce, tomato and cheese. Then pour wine in wok and light. Cover face from flambe. Cook for 25 minutes.

ST MARYS GOLF NOTES

by Tee Up's Mate

It's good to see Tee Up making a recovery. Good on you Tee Up. Members East Coast Pennant have now reached the half way point and St Marys was host to Bicheno the weekend before last and recorded the first ever 9-0 win against the visitors in eleven years. This result was certainly better than the team could have expected given that Bicheno fielded a very strong team on paper. We are sure that the return match in a few weeks time will provide a tough test for St Marys. Bicheno recorded a fine 4-1 win in Reserve Grade and that has put them right in with a chance of defending the flag that they won last year.

This upcoming week the team travels to St Helens to renew the close battles that the two teams have had over recent seasons. A win to St Marys would give the team an excellent chance of regaining the flag, and skipper Graham Dale asks all team members to keep their game in order.

Let's not forget our ladies pennant team who have competed very well in their competition this year and we believe they are in with a great chance of taking it out with some fine performances. Well done ladies.

In club golf the ladies played the Barclay Shield recently and good performances were recorded by several pairs and we're sure they will go well in the final later in the year. Also it's good to see Colleen McGee playing again and she took out the Monthly Brooch with a very good score.

In members golf, Tom Hardy recently won his second consecutive Smokey Newman Memorial Trophy, with an excellent score and Tyrone Oliver last week carried off the stroke and putting day. Well done to you both.

Over the June long weekend we have had players travelling both to St Helens for the Carnival and to Hobart on the North-West Bay trip.

EXTRACT FROM WALSH'S ALMANAC

FINGAL VALLEY

1864

(Part 8)

On one occasion both machines were worked for a certain time to test their respective merits; an equal quantity of quartz (taken from one common heap) being crushed by each; the total produce was somewhat more than twenty ounces of gold, of which the mill produced more than fourteen ounces, and the stampers less than six - showing to almost a certainty that the failure was due to the different modes of operation by the two machines. The auriferous character of the quartz at this place cannot be said, with propriety and consistency, to have been positively tested as yet, so small has been the quantity operated upon.

One might as well presume to infer the contents of the ocean from an analysis of the produce of so many tons of sea water. Gold is found dispersed almost everywhere in the soil of this locality, but, up to the present time, in such small quantities as not to pay for the labour of extraction. In the quartz, specks of gold are to be seen in plenty, and yet the extraction, by analysis from the crushed quartz, has not been rich, though remunerative; while in some instances in Victoria, quartz not exhibiting, to even microscopic observation, any visible indications of the precious metal is said to yield a rich return.

The total value of the gold obtained by the Midland quartz crushing and gold mining company was 1500 pounds and the quantity raised by diggers from July 1857 to the present time (1864) may be safely estimated at from 750ozs to 800ozs., or about 3000 pounds in value.

The average numbers of persons at work during this period has not exceeded from 16 to 20, and the area on which they have laboured is confined to the immediate vicinity of Mangana. Mr. F.A. Dowling, of Hobart town, has recently commenced preparatory works at Mangana, for the purpose of testing the gold bearing value of the quartz.

Leaving the bridge at Fingal and bearing to the right, the road leads through part of the Malahide estate called the Black Boy Plains, to Evercreech and Fonthill, situated on

On the North West Bay trip all the travellers had a great time and the ones that went for the first time really enjoyed the trip. Many thanks to Steven Dawson and Rod Spilsbury for organising the trip as usual in the great manner it was. Steven won a runner-up trophy in one event and John Newman and Beth Haas also won nearest pin trophies over the weekend. I believe that in Hobart they don't make the bed linen long enough for some people, or so they tell me.

A contingent also went to St Helens and many congratulations go to Mary-anne Mitchell, Beth Haas and Norma Mallinson for doing well in different events. Well done. Also a big congratulations goes to Maisy Nolan in bringing up 40 years of golf with the club. Great effort Maisy.

I was remiss in last issue of Valley Voice in not thanking Dot White and Judy Blake for special jobs done on the Mowbray visit. Thanks ladies for doing your duties. It must be emphasised to all players to read and understand the practice regulations around the course. Please take note on white board when you can.

We were very sad to see the passing of Shan Wilmot's father last week. Our deepest sympathy to you Shan in your loss and the club members really feel for you.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

DEAR SIR,

LOWER INCOME EARNERS WILL NOT BE DISADVANTAGED BY FIGHTBACK!

Lower income to middle income earners will not be disadvantaged by the GST under the coalition's Fightback package.

- * The cost of living will not increase by 15%
- * The coalition package contains compensation for the one-off price increase of 4.4%
- * The income tax free threshold will increase from $5400 to $7000.
- * The tax rate for incomes from $7000 to $20,000 will be cut to 16.2%
- * Personal income tax for incomes over $20,000 will be slashed to 30%
- * The cost of filling the family car will decrease an estimated $11 per week with the abolition of the petroleum taxes
- * For a family of three children on an income of $25,000 a year, there will be a tax cut of $22.70 per week
- * Further, all pensions including the aged, disability veterans, war widows, and sole parents will be increased by $300 and the family allowance doubled( an extra $1500 per year for a 3 child family.

With the wholesale sales tax fuel excise tax, payroll tax, lump sum superannuation tax, training guarantee levy, coal export duty abolished, business costs will be cut and businesses will be encouraged to employ more and rebuild.

The services a Government supplies are funded by the taxes impose and the aim is to find the fairest and most equitable tax. The Goods and Services tax is a tax you pay only when you actually spend your money.

John Watson, Senator for Tasmania.
