INFECTIONS FROM ANIMALS TO PEOPLE

by Tim McManus - Vet. Extension Officer - DPI & F

I'm often asked about the incidence of zoonotic diseases in this State. How many Tasmanian children contract ringworm from companion animals? What is the prevalence of toxoplasmosis? Have any Tasmanians ever been infested with liver fluke?

The answer to all such queries has to be, 'nobody knows'.

Why? Because, although nearly all zoonoses are notifiable diseases, accurate diagnosis of them depends on awareness of their existence.

In this regard it could be stated, 'surely that is your job; to make the general public aware of the incidence of zoonotic diseases and advise how they might be combated.

True enough; but it's sometimes easier said than done. With hydatids it was fairly simple. Then we had a killer disease which was easy to publicise due to the obvious benefits accruing from its control.

Increased public awareness, especially consequent upon a concerted education campaign in schools, resulted in the virtual eradication of hydatid disease in Tasmania.

Apart from Leptospirosis, which has fairly low prevalence in this State, there's not, nor ever has been, a zoonosis as serious as hydatids. Its elimination has therefore tended to make owners somewhat complacent about animal-human contacts, and the risks entailed therefrom when basic hygiene is ignored.

Consequently, while hydatids might have disappeared other zoonoses definitely have not. If anything their incidence is rising.

A major difficulty with monitoring them is they tend to come and go depending on conditions and circumstances.

For example, in the last couple of years, in some northern dairying districts, enteric salmonellosis has been springing up almost from nowhere, then disappearing. While we know calves are the frequent source of human infection we're not sure from whence the organisms originate. Victoria is experiencing the same problem.

Without spending a lot of time and money, which we don't have anyway, it's difficult to track down the epidemiology of intermittent enteric infections.

A further complication is the constant emergence of new organisms. For instance the very unpleasant Salmonella abortus ovis was thought not to exist in Australia but last June was diagnosed in two New South Wales children - the first recorded human infection with this organism anywhere in the world.

Since this bacterium has its origin in sheep and there are plenty of them around it is quite likely the zoonosis is more widespread than we think. Again it becomes a matter of awareness and monitoring.

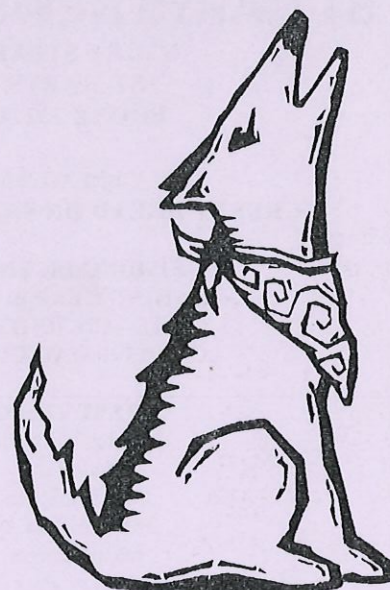

The ink was barely dry on that notification when we received advice about another 'first time in Australia' zoonosis report.

This time it was a canine bacterium called Gastrosprillum hominis which infected a 12 year old Queensland girl when a dog licked her face.

She developed a chronic gastritis and had to be treated at the Royal Children's Hospital in Brisbane.

I suppose the bottom line of all this is until we determine what undiscovered zoonoses are out there just waiting to infect us and our children, prevention of infection must be the guide-line.

Be it cat or cow, dog or donkey, parrot or pig, whatever and whenever animals are handled, wash your hands thoroughly afterwards - always.

CRICKET NOTES

Once again St Marys Cricket Club pads up for another season in the Scottsdale and District Cricket Association. Much has already happened in the short pre-season. With the unfortunate folding of the Scamander A Grade, our Club had hoped to gain some valuable cricketers - Jamie McKimmie the first to add to our all round strength. We look forward to seeing the number of Juniors, the most to enter the club in recent years, make their mark and establish themselves as regular players. Daniel Gillies, Daniel Guy, Adam Johnson, Andrew Scott, the Seymour brothers and James Bennett have all shown improvement at training and might be showing some of our senior players who have been absent so far, that a position in the side might be hard to hold. For a change, weight of numbers may mean a real battle for the 11 spots up for grabs. This is something that has been missing around our Club for years, as the past several seasons results will indicate.

Unfortunately the Club will lose the services of Simon Dakin, Brent Leedham and Jamie Viney. Although these players were beginning to make their mark, the Club must move on.

Regulars such as Jeff Woods, John Miles (who is returning after a few seasons out) Marcus Greenwood and Roger Salter, should give the Club solid support.

I'm sure that with the improved efforts of last year and the blend of youth and experience around this season that the Club will drop the 'easy-beat' tag and become a very competitive unit.

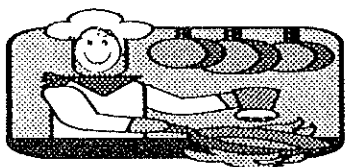

Results of matches will be published each fortnight. The first game against the strong Central side at Scottsdale, October 15, then St Helens at home on the 22. We hope to see you there.

Thank You

Thank you to Police and Fire Brigade and the gentleman who notified the above that my car was on fire.

SMACD REPORT

The White Paper & Employment

Last week I attended a Local Employment Initiatives meeting where the White Paper and employment was a major topic. It seems like the Government is prepared to spend more big dollars on schemes to assist the longterm unemployed which all sounds great but how this will benefit places like St Marys is beyond me. To my way of thinking, no matter how much incentive there is for the employers to put some people on, you cannot create jobs for jobs sake.

The SMACD committee have always been of the opinion that by attempting to improve the appearance of our town, creating and promoting our Tourist attractions, which will hopefully encourage visitors to come to, not through St Marys, only then will the new jobs start to appear. In the mean time we must start thinking co-ops, community projects etc.

Recycling is a growth industry, there are several women in Tasmania who are making a living out of their local tips, there must be someone in our community that could do the same and why don't we have a co-op for our Crafts people. How many people own an acre of land which is sitting idle? How about a vegetable co-op, we all complain about not having fresh vegies available.

It really is up to us.

St Marys Annual Event

We are still looking for the BIG one, the bike idea has been shelved for the time being, however we have this week put a proposal to all clubs regarding a St Patricks Day Festival. After all we do have Irish Town, Dublin Town and St Patricks Head so there must be an Irish background somewhere. Could we not capitalise on this.

If you have organisational skills and feel this idea has merit, please get in touch with me. (722187)

Lloyds have increased their sponsorship for this 7.6 km foot race held in conjunction with the New year's Races, so start practising those hill climbs now.

Tidy Towns

LANDCARE NEWS

by Jan Sparkes

It is with great pleasure that we announce that St Marys Landcare Group has been successful in obtaining a grant worth $850 for the rehabilitation of St Marys Rivulet from the National Landcare Programme.

As part of Arbor Week, 2-8 October we have been involved in a number of tree planting schemes in the area. The first fifty trees and shrubs are being planted along the west bank of St Marys Rivulet. Further trees will be planted along the bank in the next couple of weeks. We also received a request from the students of year 9B at St Marys District High School to assist with the planting of 45 blackwood trees for the school plantation. Due to adverse weather conditions some 45 trees had died and needed replacing. The 9B students have taken on the task of planting and caring for the trees as part of their community service course. Well done 9B, keep up the good work! The trees will be planted in the very near future.

A further mixed planting of some 200 indigenous trees will commence in the near future at Pass Reserve. The construction work is nearly completed. Parks, Wildlife & Heritage have surveyed and fenced off the area with a resultant smaller car park. Hopefully this will stop the dumping of rubbish which made the area so unsightly! Parks, Wildlife & Heritage have provided the trees - thanks for all your help Murray Luttrell and the St Marys Landcare Group with the very valuable help of students from graded 5/6 at St Marys High School who will plant the trees. Let's hope that nature will not be too harsh on these young trees so the reserve can become a pleasant walking and picnic area in the near future. It is also great to see the tree planting at St Marys Golf Club, making an attractive area even better. Even though Arbor Week has now been and gone for 1994, Landcare St Marys hopes everyone will become involved in planting trees to make our Town a Town of Trees.

FUN DAY

A most enjoyable and successful fun day was held on Sunday 25 September. It is hoped to hold another one soon.

FUNDRAISING FOR LIGHTS

The support shown so far from our members and the community has been very rewarding.

To date we have conducted a mini tattslotto, weekly raffles and raffled an autographed 1994 North Melbourne leather football. The winner of the football was Tiana Bean.

Another tattslotto is about to start and other functions planned include:-

- Scamander market stall (Sunday, November 6 or 20), so if you have any times you wish to donate, please contact Jill Faulkner, Shirley Britton or Maureen Bushing and collection can be arranged.
- cent evening
- trivia night
- and maybe a mystery bus tour. (We need to know if there is sufficient interest in the community for planning of the tour to proceed. Please leave your names with Kathryn at the Health & Beauty or at the clubrooms if you would be prepared to support this activity.

TWILIGHT TENNIS

Twilight tennis has commenced and new members are welcome to join in on Thursdays from 6 pm onwards.

NEXT MEETING

GOLF NOTES by Tee Up

Well! the Men's Championships have come and gone. Last weekend the course was drenched and the members would have been also had not the committee in their wisdom postponed one session.

However the final day was everything that anybody could wish for and the scores were matched by the interest of the public who turned out to show their interest in this yearly event. The four divisions were well represented and it was delightful to read the scores. Of course I get a thrill always reading and listening to the Juniors. We have always been fortunate in producing most excellent Juniors and this year is no exception only this year I believe they are much younger with senior handicaps.

What a thrill for Shaun Aulich - holing in one. First time on the 14th. Good for you Shaun.

Chicken Run commences next Friday night, 14th. Juniors Chicken Run is on Thursday night, 13th.

I believe Twilight Bowls also commences this Friday evening at 5.00 pm and get ready for next Sunday 16th, a great Fun Day "Ambrose" and in pairs - two ladies or two men even grandma and grandad and they tell me the household pets if they control themselves. Good prizes and a wonderful Grocery Hamper raffle. $6 per head.

The final of the Ladies Championship with congratulations going to Liz Kellaway in B Grade winning by one stroke from May Cook. Maureen Murray was third.

C Grade saw Helen Hayes win the gross with 389 and Carol Gunson and Maisie Nolan each on 398.

72 Hole Handicap went to Carol Gunson 254 and runner up Y Davern 267.

72 Hole Putts went to Helen Hayes 126.

Canadian Foursome Ladies

Liz Clayton and Wendy Haas 66 nett

May Cook & Mary Viney 67 nett

Idie Francis & Beth Haas 67½ nett

Nearest Pin - 7th: Idie & Beth

Last Sunday saw Shaun Fletcher win a stroke handicap with 61 nett and the first day of the Championship had some very interesting scores.

All Grades were very close but one cannot comment because of one round depleted. Congratulations to U Pratap on winning gross and nett in C Grade and young Adam in having the gross and nett in his division and as I said earlier it is a delight to watch these Juniors. They have a swing that many Seniors would be satisfied to possess. They seemed to be a little timid on the greens but of course this could have been due to such a gallery as was down at the eighth. I know we are going to read a lot more of our Juniors and good hitting to every one of you.
