TWO ROOMS AT THE TOP

The rooms at the top of the 18 steps of the steep stairway may be a little shabby now, strewn with paper, rather hot in summer, very cold in winter but this is where it happens. Climbing the steep old stairway a number of times a day is certainly good exercise and this is where the Valley Voice newspaper is put together by a small group of volunteers each fortnight.

Almost 90 years ago, a new baby was brought home to these rooms above the St Marys Boot Shop. On the 16 June 1904, John Thomas Douglas Smith was born, known to the people of St Marys as Mr Jack Smith. Mr Smith grew up with his parents James and Elizabeth, brother James and sister Eva. The present Shoe Shop and Health and Beauty Shop are on the site of one of the oldest buildings in St Marys. The two rooms at the top were built onto the original building as extra bedrooms above the family home.

I spent a most interesting evening with Mr Smith, sitting near his cosy fire listening as he recalled some of the memories that have stayed with him all these years.

"My father told me that the English minister was 75 years old when he christened me and in later years I was invited to his 100th birthday party and I said to my father that perhaps it was a good sign and that he may have blessed me with a long life like himself." The minister used to walk from St Helens to Cullenswood to preach then would stay a few days before going home. He lived to be 107 years old Mr Smith told me.

Mr Smith also talks of a day when he and his cousin Cyril had to escort the midwife to a neighbouring farm about a quarter of a mile away. "...my crikey she was a lifter" he said, "...and when she fell over going across the rough paddock she just sat there and laughed and told us to go for help to get her onto her feet as she was too big for us boys to lift - must have been about 20 stone". Mr Smith chuckles as he remembers this as it happened when he stayed with relations at Pyengana.

Mr Smith's father was a bootmaker who had learnt his trade when apprenticed to a man at Avoca. In those days you paid for the privilege to be an apprentice whereas when Mr Smith worked with his father to learn bootmaking he was paid five shillings plus his keep.

Jack Smith left school at 14 and 'poked about down the railway' hoping for a job but then decided to stay with his father and learn the boot trade. His father warned him "if you marry son, your wife will have to take in washing to help make ends meet" - but she never had to, Mr Smith smiles as he proudly remembers his successful business.

There were no gumboots when Mr Smith was making boots and he would make fine waterproof boots for the farmers with leather bought from W G Genders, then he would cut out his patterns and use wooden sprigs 'morticed like spokes in a wheel' as there were no nails. These boots were made to order after the customer had been measured.

When it became unprofitable to make his own boots, Mr Smith began to order them from Melbourne and came up with the idea that if you put a size 8 sole on a size 7 boot it would wear much longer. Mr Smith suggested this to his Melbourne manufacturer who later wrote to him and commended him on his initiative. These boots were good hard wearing boots for the miners.

When the war came, Mr Smith would have to collect coupons and send them to Melbourne before his order would be returned. His order of fifty pair of boots at a time would soon be sold.

Mr Smith believes that the first boot that his father made may be on display in the St Helens History Room and that a friend still has the first boot that he made when just a boy.

Mr Smith has many memories of living behind and above the Boot Shop. Two bedrooms upstairs for his parents and sister, he and his brother slept downstairs, the dining room behind the shop and the kitchen down a couple of steps. Nearly everyone fell down the steep stairs at sometime. His father fell down them when he was very elderly, probably nearly 90. He was taken to hospital but never recovered well enough to go home and died in his 90th year. Mr Smith spoke fondly of his father who taught him much but was also like a very good friend. His mother had died much younger than his father. "She was a real worrier", he said.

At the time when the Smith's had their Boot Shop the other part was rented out as a Bakery. Mr Smith says the Maddens, Williams then Ted Chapman were bakers that he could remember until his father got tired of fumes and smoke from the bakery and asked Mr Chapman to move to a site across the road.

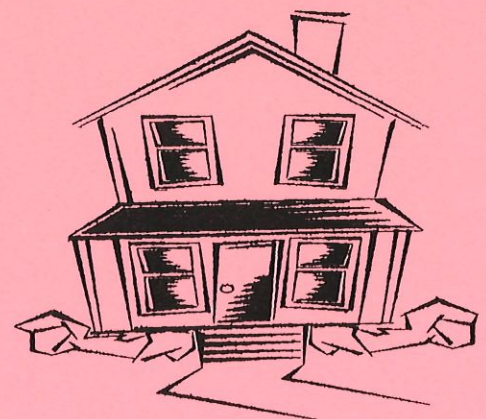

The Bakers Shop then became a Chemist Shop. Some of the names remembered are Warren, George Dineen, Ernie West, Forsyth and Jackson. Possibly there were a couple of grocers between the time of the bakers and the chemists as well as families living in the building.

Mr Smith married and moved to his newly built home in Clive Street where he still lives today, but continued his business in the same spot as his father before him. It is still a shoe shop today.

When the Valley Voice was looking for a place to operate from, Mr Smith let us move into the rooms upstairs above where he worked and we are grateful that that has been our permanent headquarters ever since.

These are just a few of Mr Smith's memories and I think he must have been right about the minister's blessing as Mr Smith will be 90 in a few weeks.

FROM THE APPLE TO THE BIG APPLE

9 weeks ago, 12 months of planning all fell into place, when we arrived at Los Angeles Airport.

Stepping off the plane we were confronted by the first of the many queues we were going to encounter during our five week stay in America, the first queue being immigration. After clearing immigration our holiday began. To explain all our experiences would turn the Valley Voice into a novel, so here are just a few.

Disneyland - The first on our list.

The home of Mickey Mouse and many large amusement rides. Lines up to 1 1/2 hours long were common. During our day at Disneyland we experienced an after shock of the earthquake which made the roller coaster that much more exciting.

From Los Angeles we travelled to Tijuana (Mexico) where the people are poor and their children were begging in the streets. Tijuana is a town of markets where everything is for sale at a price and that price is as low as you can barter. From the hustle and bustle of San Diego to a sedate country town of Flagstaff was a welcome change. Hiring a car we drove to the Grand Canyon on the wrong side of the road. One of the many different aspects of driving in America. We saw the Grand Canyon in two extremes. one by helicopter and the other on horse back.

Our next stop Las Vegas (lost wages), a place where you can play the slot machines in the casino, restaurant line and even the toilet.

From Las Vegas we continued across America stopping at Dallas, New Orleans, Memphis, Philadelphia and New York. Staying in New York for three days was an experience in itself. New York being ten times busier than Sydney at peak hour. Taking a kamikaze New York taxi cab ride, we travelled to Empire State Building, World Trade Centre and took the ferry across to the Statue of Liberty. From New York onto Niagara Falls and then to Nashville, Tennessee where a drive to Jack Daniels Distillery in Lynchburg to San Francisco where a tour to Alcatraz Island was in order, then back to L.A. where a relaxing 4 days in Hollywood was enjoyed. During our stay in Hollywood we had two minutes of stardom when a news crew from Fox Television interviewed us concerning the announcement of Roseanne Arnolds divorce.

As we mentioned these are only a few highlights encountered on our trip.

But for now, it's back to work and planning for our return trip. Marcus, Nicole, Genevieve & Paul.

Letter To The Editor

I have known Mr Fred Meyer for 25 years. On Wednesday morning, the 13 April, we were notified that Mr Meyer would be taken to Medea Park in half an hour's time.

Upon reaching the hospital other concerned people were gathered outside. My daughters and I entered the Hospital and found Mr Meyer sitting in the Lounge Room, his eyes were red from crying, a wet tissue was on the table in front of him. I asked him if he was happy to go to Medea Park and he shook his head. A friend present asked if he could change his mind and she was told that he could.

A Staff member asked him why he had said he wanted to go if he did not want to. He replied "I had to". I asked why he could not remain at St Marys if he wanted to. I was told by a person from the Northern Region that St Marys Hospital would be an empty building as it was to be closed and the decision to do so had been made in September. I replied that it was not public opinion. He told me it was Ministerial and that if Mr Meyer remained it would be like an empty tomb. I insisted that Mr Meyer should have a choice, other people present agreed. A Staff member was told to ask him. She said, "Freddie do you want to go to Medea Park?" Mr Meyer shook his head, hit the table in front of him with his right hand and said forcibly "No stay here, stay here."

The man from the Northern Region told him he was just upset and they would hold the bed for him until the next morning when he was not so upset and had time to reconsider. Mr Meyer again shook his head and said "No stay here". The man then said that it looked like he would have to remain at St Marys.

My daughters and I talked to Mr Meyer for a while and left quite confident that he would be allowed to stay at St Marys. At 4.30 pm I received a call to say that Mr Meyer had been taken to Medea Park.

On Wednesday the 20 April, my husband and I visited Mr Meyer at Medea Park. I asked him if he was happy there. He shook his head very sadly and said "No."

We have seen Mr Meyer on several occasions since and he is still upset at having to leave St Marys Hospital.

I am more determined than ever to try and help get a Multi Purpose Centre for St Marys for the sake of Mr Meyer and ones like him, even maybe for my own use one day.

Come let us rally and become a caring society.

Beverly Rubenach

St Marys

Extract from letter of reply by Mr Roger Groom, Minister for Community and Health Services to Mr Peter Patmore MHA, in response to Mrs Oliver's letter to Mr Patmore regarding her concern for the elderly patients in the St Marys District Hospital.

For your information planning is now underway in respect to establishing the six bed unit at the St Marys Hospital (three acute and three respite beds). To allow the three women to remain in the respite beds for an indefinite period will deny other members of the community respite facilities. The need for this service has been demonstrated in the last few weeks.

The restructuring of community and health services in the St Marys/Fingal Valley area was necessary to provide more comprehensive and effective service delivery for the whole community. As a result of the restructuring, expansion of a range of services has been possible.

I am advised that expansion of the existing four hour Day Centre for the younger disabled (physical/mental) and the frail elderly to two and a half days per week will commence in the East Wing of the St Marys District Hospital on the 30 May 1994. It will provide social and other activities for those attending the centre and respite for carers.

The Child and Family Health nurses have been relocated to a larger self-contained building, and in conjunction with the Child Care Association in the district, are expanding their community services for mothers and young children.

THE CORRECT GUIDE TO LETTER WRITING

BY A MEMBER OF THE ARISTOCRACY

Proposal of Marriage May 26th 18__

Dear Miss Barcombe

I am aware that I am taking a very unusual step in venturing to address you, but trust under the circumstances you will be inclined to excuse it, unfortunately there appears to be no other course open to me of making myself known to you. Your beauty, dear Miss Barcombe, has inspired me with a sincere affection for yourself, and the various occasions on which I have had the pleasure of seeing you have served but to deepen the impression you at first created; and the one hope that animates me thus writing to you, is that you may be induced to return my affection and ultimately become my wife. My position and means would, I think, be found satisfactory by your friends, and I trust you will give me an early opportunity of pleading my suit in person, and of offering every possible explanation to your relatives respecting my prospects in life. In the mean time I should tell you that I have lately become a junior partner in the firm of Messrs. Lewes and Lewes, civil engineers, and that I am thoroughly able to maintain a wife in comfort, if not in luxury. I hope that it may mutely speak for me?

Believe me,

Dear Miss Barcombe,

Very truly yours

Claude Lawrence

Unfavourable reply May 27th 18__

Miss Barcombe was naturally very much surprised at the contents of Mr Lawrence's letter. She hastens to inform him that it is out of the question she can entertain his proposals. She need not trouble him with her reasons for this decision, beyond saying that they are quite conclusive, and she very much regrets for Mr Lawrence's sake, that he should have allowed himself to think of her for a moment. She begs to return his photo, and to add that she trusts the impression she appears to have made upon him will prove but a very transitory one

Favourable reply May 27th 18__

Dear Sir,

Your letter received this morning surprised me not a little, coming from one who is an entire stranger to me. I at once showed it to my aunt, with whom I am staying, and she considers it so straightforward, that she sees no objection to you calling on her, especially as she is slightly acquainted with members of your family. My aunt will be home about four o'clock, but you must not consider this permission to call as encouragement of your hopes on my part. It is merely an opportunity afforded by my aunt of our becoming acquainted.

Believe me,

Very truly yours,

Helen Barcombe

ST.MARYS PACING CLUB

The St.Marys Pacing Club once again wish to thank all their wonderful helpers and donors after another successful New Year Day race meeting. Without them we wouldbe hard put to continue racing. It was a great effort considering the previous week we had seventeen or more inches of rain, some stalls were blown down and the entire grounds were flooded. Special thanks to all who came along and assisted to repair damage and enable us to race. It was also a first as we conducted seven pacing events for the first time. This effort earned our club an award from the Australian Standard Bred magazine, an Australia wide paper as Hopkins Saddlery Club of the Month. Copy of same enclosed.

On a saddle note was the passing of Athol Woods of Fingal, one of our most concientious and hardworking committee member was always available for working bees etc, in fact, he used to ring me to see when the next one was on. He will be sorely missed and hard to replace. To Molly and family we offer our sincere condolences.

Eric Bean (Sec).

The Tasmanian club staged its annual meeting on New Years Day, and despite having to overcome difficulties caused by the weather, enjoyed a very successful day. For the first time the club staged sevedn races, which were all broadcast over Radio 7TAB.

When 17 inches of rain fell in the 10 days before the meeting and high winds destroyed several boxes, it didn't augur well for

GOLF NOTES by Tee Up

Well our eyes have focussed on our Pennant team which was defeated 6/3 A Grade at Malahide last Sunday. It could have gone either way as two of the games went to the 19th. However there are quite a few new names on the list this year and we give them all a welcome including John Miles, Trevor, Damon and Jack Viney, Jason Lynch and Jim Haas.

B Grade lost 3/2 and as we have new players in this grade also, we are watching with a lot of interest at the next few matches. Our captain (Rod McGiveron) was very happy with the wins of Chris Davern and Shan Wilmot against Mark Thomas and Andrew Scott. Paul Davern and Jason Lynch defeated their opponents in B Grade and as it was Jason's first game of pennant we give a hearty congratulations to you Jason and our old stalwart in Paul - well done also. We pause here to say "good on you Adam" and only losing one up in your first game of pennant golf at 12 years of age. The Club is very proud of you Adam and will be watching with interest your progress as the season unfolds.

St Marys' lack of experience was counteracted by a genuine enthusiasm and St Marys hopes to get better as the season goes on.

I was loaned a scrap book of Narelle Hayes' and it was just fantastic to read. The Club is overjoyed that you have started again Narelle. Yesterday I read where she has broken her handicap again and is now playing on 10. I heard a whisper that she is trying for single figure handicap. Keep it up Narelle - we are proud of you.

The Associates held a 36 Hole Foursomes draw for Partners and scores to date:

The second Pennant match of the season was at St Marys against St Helens and St Marys. Thanks to excellent wins to Chris Davern, Trevor, Damon and Jack Viney and Rod Field the team recorded a terrific 5-4 win over a very strong St Helens team.

In Reserve Grade Jason Lynch, Shaun Aulich and Andrew Haas in his first game, brought the team home 3-2. Congratulations to all team members and with the return of a couple of good players, the team in both grades will once again be competitive. The up-coming game will see St Marys play host to Bicheno.

ST MARYS VS CAMPBELL TOWN

With the Thirds not playing for the day, much interest was taken in the first Mini-League game. That kicked off at 10.30 am. There were plenty of parents for moral support and with ample time to settle in, the youngsters showed an abundance of ability, with only a goal the difference at the end. The Club wishes to thank David Bain for his efforts in getting the game off the ground. We hope to see some more matches at every home game, with a little earlier start prior to the thirds.

The Reserves game between the two arch-rivals turned out to be somewhat of an anticlimax, with Campbell Town dominating in most positions around the ground and on the scoreboard, restricting the struggling Tigers to no score. The only clear winners on a disappointing day were Steve Bruinawoud in the ruck, with some fine marking and kicking, Peter Dakin again tried to lead by example, Peter Gillies and Mick Haas were other stand out players.

There is a lot of talent at hand in our Reserves, mostly shown in individual performances and maybe a team effort and win is not too far away.

Seniors

The spark that players and supporters needed finally arrived in our first win. With a strong opening quarter, the players suddenly found a confidence in each other that had been missing over previous weeks. Coach Craig Jones had an exceptional first half, bringing other players around him into the game. Ray Squires marked strongly and had five first half goals thanks to many attacking moves from our running half backs, Mark Williams and Paul Barnes. Matthew Radford and Laze Richardson made the most of their promotions from the Reserves and seemed impassable at the full back. To name a few players though does detract on a great team effort with the Tigers winning in most positions on the day.

The win certainly put a different feeling around the Club and Town with most players attending after game functions and making it a great evening. It may be the Tigers have now turned the corner and will look forward to a more successful season. The hard work all round might be starting to reap its rewards.

Last weeks Footy Tip winners - Tim Aulich and Malcy Wardlaw. The Jackpot this week stands at $100 so get your entries in. (Everyone has heard of Louie the Lip, now we have Malcy the Nose). All upcoming functions are advertised at the Sheds, but it is essential that all players and supporters book early for the bus to Mole Creek, Saturday 4 June. Come along and have a great day out, only $10.00 per person.

FINGAL FOOTBALL

by One Eye

FINGAL VS MOLE CREEK

On Saturday 14 May Fingal hosted Mole Creek. The weather was very cold with a strong wind favouring the northern end of the ground. Mole Creek kicked with the wind in the first quarter. In the opening minutes Chris Reynolds for Mole Creek, marked strongly and goaled. Mole Creek kicked 4 goals to Fingal's 1 in the first term. The second quarter, Fingal found it very hard to score because of the pressure applied by Mole Creek. At the long interval Mole Creek led by 4 goals 5 behinds to Fingal 2 goals 6 behinds. The third quarter saw Fingal lift their standard of play and hold the Creekers to 1 goal. Fingal was well led by David Lowe and David Hoskinson in defence. The last quarter Fingal completely out played the opposition, kicking 5 goals to hold Mole Creek scoreless for the entire quarter. Players to do well were David Lowe, David Hoskinson, Jarrad Woods, Robin Youd, Paul Rundle and Stephen Sonners. Also David Brittain showed glimpses of form when he came off the interchange, in his first senior game this year.

The Reserves went down to Mole Creek so come on boys, regroup and get back on the winning side.

The Under 16's had a very convincing win. It was good to see the boys bounce back after being defeated by Evandale. Keep up the good work boys.

Scores:

Under 16's: Fingal 8.6 d Mole Creek 1pt

Reserves: Mole Creek 6.13 d Fingal 4.8

Seniors: Fingal 7.11 d Mole Creek 6.6

FINGAL VS HAGLEY

Fingal suffered their second loss of the season at the hands of Hagley on Saturday. The game was played in very windy conditions. The first half was even but in the third quarter Hagley put the result beyond doubt, with a six goal to one goal quarter. Fingal suffered a bad loss when full back David Hoskinson, received a serious ankle injury which will see him side-lined for up to three weeks. The Blues had very few good players. Captain-Coach David Lowe put in another great game, whether in defence or in the forward line. Robin Youd was also a good contributor Brett Triffitt - when shifted to full back. Jason Hall and Michael Warmesley also contributed well for the side.

This week Fingal players ladder leader Bracknell at Fingal. Unless some of the Blues players decide to take an example from their coach David Lowe, and the example he sets on the ground, Fingal will not be in the hunt.

It was good to see the Reserves back on the winning list, defeating Hagley by 6 points. WELL DONE.

The Under 16's showed great team work to beat Hagley convincingly. Next week they come up against the bigger Bracknell side, but I can assure our supporters they will be in there having a go.

Scores:

Seniors:

Hagley 11.18 (84) d Fingal 5.13 (43)

Reserves:

Fingal 7.4 (46) d Hagley 6.4 (40)

Under 16's:

Fingal 7.9 (51) d Hagley
