Is this the end of FOOTBALL in the Valley?

What a sad time for the Valley, so many people have given so much over a long period of time. More than 100 years in fact. The Valley has always had a footy comp.

We are all well aware of the difficulties faced by individual teams in trying to keep their associations going. Our economic climate has seen the young men of the area move on to more prosperous pastures and who can blame them.

It was hoped that the amalgamation of the Fingal and St Marys teams into the Valley Saints would be the saviour and didn't they perform admirably in the 1995 season.

From memory they only had one loss. One would have thought that this effort would ensure a good line up for the '96 season.

Unfortunately this has not been the case and although several people in both towns put in a valiant effort to keep the comp going, it is not to be.

I cannot let this pass without comment.

While we the spectators are surely going to miss those cold and wet winter gatherings, we will no doubt find something else to occupy our Saturday afternoons.

To my way of thinking the real loser in this decision is our youth.

The Valley has very little to offer the youngsters in both towns.

Football didn't only cater for the players and may I add two teams involves some fifty kids, but it also involved the players brothers and sisters.

Football has been a social event for the entire family, and the season gave these kids something to look forward to for close on five months of the year.

What do we have to offer to replace this institution?

One parent has approached me with the suggestion of having a junior team entered in the Esk comp. It would be great I am sure, but with my little knowledge of the football administration I would imagine all types of problems, with unpopular byes having to be introduced. Maybe there is a parent of one of the under 16's who would like to investigate the options and viability of the suggestion. Maybe the schools and parents could initiate a local comp to be played between Avoca, St Marys and Fingal. I don't profess to have any answers, and I am simply expressing my concerns in the hope that there may be enough parents out there who will be effected by the loss of football in the Valley, who will attempt to come up with some alternative.

One thing is for sure, if there is no football in the Valley for the juniors, there will never be football for the seniors. After all where does one gain their experience if they are not playing in an under 16 comp and if there is no under 16 comp, what as a community are we going to offer the youth of this region?

This is a community issue and one that needs to be addressed by the community, even more importantly it needs to be addressed by the families of the children who are affected by this sad situation and that is not just the football players. It is time to stand up and be counted.

The children of the area desperately need something to replace their footy. Is it a Council issue? Is it your responsibility? Someone should be attempting to address the problem.

Public comment from Annette Wines.

MARION OLIVER "AUNTIE MAL"

With the death of Marion Oliver the Cornwall "Chain of Life" has been further weakened. Marion a daughter of Dick Haas was married to Cyril Oliver. Widowed at an early age and with a small daughter Marion devoted her life to daughter Jan and her parents. Marion was noted for her ready "repartee", her sewing, her willingness to help her fellow man. In her later years at Cornwall she worked as assistant in Dawborns' Shop. "Auntie Mal" to many of the Cornwall children spent her final years at Hobart with Jan and her children and her grandchildren.

PENGUIN DISTRICT RE -VISITED

After a sojourn at Somerset I stayed for several days with my sister & brother in law at the Don. The weather happened to be fine so we took the opportunity to go driving and picnicking. One day we went to Cradle Mountain going through Spreyton & Latrobe.

Going through Spreyton I was wondering what all the fuss over the new milk depot was about and how the use of the small amount of coal they were going to use could spoil the environment. The road to Cradle is very winding, worse bends than on our passes and much longer, the only difference not much traffic. On the way we stopped at craft shops and a little cottage where the young lass was weaving her coats, scarfs and shawls, they were beautiful, she even sewed the coats herself - they were fantastic. The craft shops were all the same-woodwork, beautifully finished but very expensive, if they had home made cooking, especially bread a very ready market. Hand painting in oils of the mountain in different seasons were in the vicinity of $350.00 unframed to $600-700 framed. Books on Tasmania were a great buy..

On another day we went through Hampshire and picniced at Lake Melrose. Another very winding road, very thick bush, but also not much traffic. On the return trip we decided to come down into South Riana & Riana and Penquin. Now I was in very familiar country, picking out fields where I used to play hockey- no mowed ovals or synthetic fields, the farmers lent us their paddocks. At South Riana we stopped at the Pioneer Park for afternoon tea. This park maintained by the farmers was a credit. There were four caravans stopping there - all from other parts, Western Australia, South Australia and Queensland. The park had toilets, showers, barbecues, places to boil jugs and taps, all conveniences were housed in buildings made of stones connected together - no upkeep.

The C.W.A. had a Memorial Garden, beautifully maintained and a riot of colour. The playground was well sanded. Comments from the visitors "so peaceful, so clean, a good place to have as a base to see other places".

Driving through West-pine and later Forth, farmers were busy harvesting their crops of beans, sweet corn, onions and some potatoes. Although people were so busy in their farms and market gardens, people were not stopping. Shops were very bare of people - a sign of the times, I even saw my old High School. The impressive front of the old entrance - at least the playing fields are there: tennis courts, football and hockey fields.

I love going to the North - West Coast but I love where I live now - it's peaceful.

Una Camplin.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT

The term really seems to be flying by and in only a few weeks the Easter break will be upon us. A lot has happened in the last few weeks, in particular some camps and excursions.

The Grade 7 Camp to Orford last week was a great success and I must thank the staff involved for their time and organisation, Howard Jones, Jane Pickett, Nic Wardlaw and Jeff Green.

Next week Bill Hunt will be taking his class on an overnight camp near Binalong Bay. I'm sure the students will enjoy the experience.

A selected group of Art Craft and Design students were last week inspired by two exhibitions in Launceston, one featuring year 11/12 artwork. Thankyou to Peggy Richards and Theresa Kandray for that excursion.

This week we have hosted the Division Three Inter-high Swimming Carnival, the Cressy sports exchange and the Primary East North East Swimming Carnival. As I write this only the results of the Inter-high Carnival are known.

In the junior shield our swimmers performed particularly well finishing a close runner up by only 6 points to the eventual joint winners Campbell Town and Cressy.

Despite some excellent individual performances in the senior competition we were unfortunately a little under represented in some events. We finished third behind Campbell Town and St. Helens, placing third also in the Aggregate.

With our 'excellent' facilities for swimming now at our school I predict a bright future, particularly as the younger students consolidate and strengthen their skills in this area.

I am pleased to be able to comment on the outstanding manner in which our SRC Executive, Aussie Sport Leaders and House Captains have assumed their responsibilities and roles.

So far the SRC have organised a Grade 7-12 Social and BBQ to coincide with the Cressy Exchange and Sport Leaders and House Captains have assisted with the conduct of the swimming carnivals. Congratulations to these students for your work so far.

Thanks also to Jeff Green, Karolyn Smith and David Bain for their co-ordination of these groups.

Some students will also be able to display their leadership skills when they assist with Targa Tasmania stages after Easter.

Year 11/12 students will again be helping at St. Marys and some Bicheno students will also be contacted individually by the organisers to assist with the stop over there on Thursday April 18.

Within this newsletter there is a flyer for a new publication, JET (Journal of Education, Tasmania).

These days parents are always being urged to be more involved in their children's education in order to strengthen the partnership between home and school. How do parents get the knowledge they need to support their children? How can they discuss and debate easily and freely with professionals? How can parents keep up with changes in education? These are just some of the questions parents might be asking.

The editors of JET believe they have a magazine which will offer an opportunity for parents, families and community members to be fully informed about the latest developments in education and give insight into ways that parents can assist their children to succeed at and through school. I commend it to you.

In the last newsletter the Parents and Friends announced a Working Bee for the school farm. The date for this has been changed to Saturday April 20.

A BBQ and refreshments will be provided on the day. Please come along and support this worthwhile enterprise. Some of the recent initiatives for the school farm include securing support from BHP to hold a field day for fencing and a submission to establish a tree plantation on an area behind the Primary oval in the south eastern corner of the property. There will be more information about these and other projects in future newsletters.

Neighbourhood
Watch

COMMERICAL UNION INSURANCE - COMMUNITY CARING

NEXT MEETING WEDNESDAY APRIL
10TH 1996 AT ST MARYS FIRE STATION
7.30PM

By now Neighbourhood Watch kits should have been delivered to most houses in the community, those that have not received them yet should do so in the near future. There has been some general feeling in the community about giving a donation to Neighbourhood Watch, and as to the purpose of this donation. While it is not compulsory to give a donation it is greatly appreciated as this money is used to purchase the necessary equipment to make Neighbourhood Watch work effectively. This equipment includes the like of engravers that can be borrowed from Neighbourhood Watch to engrave your personal items such as TV's, videos etc... as described in the householder kit, as well as signs that will be placed around the area.

CRIME REPORT

UNNECESSARY DESTRUCTION

Recently in the community there has been several cases of wilful damage to property. There was an excavator purposefully put over the St Marys Pass on the long weekend, which is totally unnecessary. This type of equipment is very expensive and is somebody's livelihood. The roof to the reservoir at Cornwall was damaged recently, apparently by rocks being thrown through the roof. This kind of destruction must be avoided as it is dangerous and can cause major problems to the Cornwall water supply by letting contaminants into the reservoir. This in turn causes illness to ALL people who use the water. Someone knows something about these crimes, it is important that this info is reported to police or crime stoppers. They may not be able to prosecute the felons due to lack of evidence but they can talk to them and keep a close watch on them and this way prevent further crime by them.

Cornwall is to be congratulated on winning the Tasmania Perpetual Trophy for 1996 at the Indoor Bowls Intrastate Tournament held this year at Somerset. Cornwall team of Mr & Mrs Stone, C. Webster & U. Camplin were amongst the oldest teams playing. There were 79 individual teams playing over the 2 days. Cornwall won from Perth 2, & Midway Point who won on a count back from a Westbury team. The trophy is on show at the Trust Bank for 12 months. Next year the competition will be held at Deloraine, God willing we will have a shot at winning next year. P.S. Anyone interested in playing Indoor Bowls are welcome at Cornwall or St Marys. It's good exercise and not too strenuous.

LANDCARE NEWS

Jan Sparkes

There will be a TREE PLANTING and WORKING BEE on the St Marys District High School farm on SATURDAY 20TH APRIL AT 10 AM.

The school farm has been officially leased by Parents & Friends Association and a five member sub-committee is in charge of the day-to-day running of the farm.

Currently the farm is somewhat run-down and it has become an urgent matter to make it into an interesting and exciting learning adjunct to this excellent and beautifully situated school.

Some five months ago the St Marys Landcare Group sponsored LEAP group with the aid of Doug Preece's mulcher, Lohrey's excavator and Troy Dawson's truck removed some six or seven large old willow trees from an 80m bank of St Patricks Rivulet running through the school farm. This area is now ready for a revegetation program. What should we plant? you may well ask. The answer, in this situation, is native plants that occur in similar areas elsewhere on the creek. Such plants pre adapted to the typical environmental condition of the area and as such will generally be hardy and fast growing.

So come along on Saturday 20th, bring along the family, friends, some garden tools, strong foot wear, old clothing, a hat, sun block and have a great day planting sedges, saggs, herbaceous plants and shrubs and some larger trees.

We also need people prepared to repair and paint the farm buildings, weed the propagation area and help with the BBQ. There is plenty of work for everyone!

St Marys Landcare Group and the school farm committee are very active groups but the problems at the school farm are bigger than these groups can confront alone. This task requires the commitment of the whole community - past and present pupils, parents, grandparents, friends and staff are all encouraged to participate in this challenge. By involving the wider community we can increase our own understanding of land degradation, and the urgency of the problems and help our children develop their own projects to assist landcare and support a farm tree nursery.
