Good time for a clean up

Spring has definitely arrived and most people are motivated to get into their gardens, clean up around the house and generally be enthused to put an extra effort into the place where they live.

This pays off for the whole community. Tidy gardens, neat fences, mown nature strips all help to give our town a cared for and friendly atmosphere for anyone visiting and encourages them to stop at our shops.

A walk through the bush shows much evidence of rubbish being dumped there instead of being taken to the Waste Transfer Site.

See the notice below to find out how to get rid of those old car bodies.

Signposting needed.

How do we get to South Sister ?

Is this the right road to St Patricks Head ?

Where is the Jubilee Mine walking track ?

How long will it take us to climb 'Paddys' Head ?

Are there any short walks around here ?

These are a few of the questions that have been asked by 'new locals' and visitors to St Marys.

Why not place a simple fingerpost sign within the town, possibly near the Post Office or on the corner of Main and Story Streets - or would there be too much red tape to wade through - judging by the twenty- odd years of still unsuccessful efforts to get signs at Conara !!

Having recently walked the Jubilee Mine track and down the old 'pony trail' that brings you out onto the northern end of Gardiners Creek Road, I realise how this walk should be promoted to visitors as well as locals.

Thanks to the person who added a few colored markers to help show the way , but sorry that there are mindless persons who remove them.

Removal of car bodies

Council is currently co-ordinating a clean up of cars in the Cornwall area. As local residents are aware, there is a large collection of 'orphan' car wrecks on the Crown Land about 3/4 of the way up Alexander Street.

Council has organised for Sims Metal to bring a mobile crusher and set it up on this land to crush and remove the offending wrecks. Local residents are requested to assist in the clean up by dropping any disused car bodies or wrecks onto this land where Sims Metal will then deal with them.

We anticipate that Sims Metal will be on site around the 21st September. Residents who are able to do so are asked to co-operate in this venture to both improve the visual environment of Cornwall and to remove a potential danger to local children.

This action is essentially a one off so we ask that people respect their town by not allowing old car wrecks and components to remain on their land any longer than is necessary to strip useful parts. Once finished with, scrap cars can be disposed of, free of charge, at the St Marys Waste Transfer Site.

Any enquiries in relation to this matter may be directed to Richard Mason at Break O'Day Council 63761281

Fingal Valley Meals on Wheels

Annual Report 1997/98

This year has been marked by the downgrading of the St Marys District Hospital to that of a Community Health Centre.

Prior to and at the time of the change-over we were very concerned as to whether the preparation of meals would continue.

Thankfully our fears were unfounded and the meals have continued, for this we are extremely grateful.

One can imagine the changes that would be necessary if we had to rely on chilled or frozen meals from the Launceston General Hospital.

The price of meals was increased this year to $4.20 as a standard price. The price has increased over the years, twelve years ago the price was $1.40 so that the cost to recipients has increased by 300% in that time.

I am of the opinion that the 'powers that be' will have to carefully monitor the price of meals so that they do not become too expensive for recipients to cope with, if that happens their health will suffer.

We have delivered 4,538 meals this year.

For me the highlight of the year was my attendance at the Federal Conference in Adelaide last October. This provided me with great insight as to how Meals on Wheels operates in other States.

An added pleasure for Tasmanian Delegates was to have our own State President, Mr Roy Preëce of Longford, elected as National President. Roy is a very popular and capable person and will serve Meals on Wheels well during his time of office.

Now for some domestic matters.

The Fingal Valley Group has been operating for 28 years, providing wholesome meals for all who need them in this area.

Our financial position is sound as the Financial Statement will show.

Among our dedicated officers are Secretary Jack Miller and Treasurer Vicki Woods. These two people look after the day to day running of the service and the efficiency of it largely depends on the good will and interest of these two.

The members of the committee show great interest and regularly attend meetings and offer a willingness to undertake various tasks as required and give their un-failing support.

We also express our thanks to the Staff at the St Marys Community Health Centre for their every day assistance in providing meals of excellent quality.

Appreciation also to the Break O'Day Council for National Meals on Wheels Day was celebrated last week on Wednesday September 2nd. St Marys District School students, Grace Keath and Tiarna Bean assisted driver Audrey Wright when they not only delivered the meals but some 'home (hospital) cooked' biscuits and the school girls gave out a selection of chocolate goodies as an extra surprise.

printing rosters. Others who help our cause are:

St Marys Lions Club with Christmas Cakes.

Valley Voice for regular publication of driver rosters.

Petrol vendors for accepting vouchers to recompense drivers.

Margaret Bullock for supplying and arranging birthday cards for all meal recipients.

Redline Coaches for transporting eskies back to St Marys from Fingal daily.

Finally and most importantly I wish to thank the many drivers who turn up, rain hail or shine, to collect and deliver meals to our appreciative recipients.

The service could not exist without these community minded people.

Jeff's jottings from W.A.

Jeff has caught up again after his influx of visitors and we will be flat out trying to keep up with his latest jottings as he is doing so much looking and learning around his 'ranch' up north.

It seems as if the economy of Crossing Falls/Kununurra could well revolve around melons! Rock melons, honeydew melons, watermelons, champagne melons. At the largest melon farm picking goes on 24 hours a day. Large road trains leave the farms daily taking melons to Perth, Adelaide, Sydney and Melbourne. Being a farmer, Jeff checked on land prices and got a bit of a shock, $10,000 per hectare, the crops every 3 months really drag in the money. The best 50% of the melon crop is picked and the rest ploughed in, rot down quickly in the heat and with irrigation, then the next crop goes in.

Jeff has also had the opportunity to meet some beekeepers. The honey is only a sideline as the farmers pay the beekeepers to put the hives amongst their crops for pollination. Jeff was surprised that the big 44's of honey are sold for stock feed - fed to race horses. Talking of race horses, Jeff was doing his community stint on gate keeping duties at the Kununurra Race Day.

The day was most interesting, not in the races but in the people he met, visitors and backpackers who he had talked to. About 800 turned up and they hope to get more at the Kununurra Cup the following week. Horses, trainers, jockeys and others all came from near and far such as Broome, Derby, Wyndham, Darwin and Katherine. He thought that by the look of the old Bedford and Inter floats, the racing industry is not really booming.

It was a good day, take your own chair along and find a spot under the shade cloth areas on the green lawns. Jeff thought Eric Bean would be in his element up there, but doubted if the gallopers could trot! After the five races came the '2 UP' games, money flying everywhere!

One couple that Jeff met were driving a truck loaded with bananas from Tully Queensland, right across Australia to Perth in W.A. When asked why they did not take bananas from the Kununurra area, he was told that there was more money to cart them the longer distance — no wonder fresh fruit is expensive.

Jeff's next visit was to meet and talk with Bill Withers, a frontier pioneer politician. Just get 'Frontier Dreaming' and read it, this is a sample: 'It's the smile which counts. He was a tribal man with a magnificent smile and engaging personality, he wanted to sell two boomerangs and a woomera. He attracted everyones attention, a fine specimen of a man with rows of tribal scars across his chest.' Another example, dire threat, 'it had been said of the man that he wouldn't work in an iron lung.' It was the day for social security payments and for the third successive time he did not receive a cheque. His local M.P. was near the Post Office when the irate perpetually unemployed man approached him and said "You tell them gov'ment fellas, if I don't get my money next time..... I'm going to get a job with the Main Roads!"

More of Jeff's jottings next time.

St Marys Show

Adverse weather conditions were responsible for the unsuccessful show held at St Marys last Wednesday. It was distinctly unfortunate for the society and the district that one of the worst rain storms of recent years should have come along on the very day set down for the show.

The executive had arrangements well in hand, and the secretary, Mr L.N. Wright, had worked unceasingly in an endeavour to bring about a record fixture. A number of visitors from a distance put in an appearance on the day prior to the show and had the weather remained fine many more would have come along. As it was, only the very hardiest spirits ventured out.

Despite the fact that it was teeming 'cats and dogs', the entire ring programme was persisted with. Those who had the courage to visit the ground were treated to the spectacle of equestrians of both sexes, splashing through deep pools of water and negotiating fences from take-offs fetlock deep in mud.

As is usual in these cases, the horses jumped carefully and safely and no accidents occurred. The riders however could not have had one stitch of dry clothing on them. Hack races and trots were also run.

The Governor, Sir James O'Grady was present and performed the opening ceremony. There is no doubt that in the person of Sir James the primary producers have a real champion. His investigation of their position is no superficial one, for he probes their problems with a thoroughness that has won the admiration of the farming community. Few men in official positions have given the time and thought to the troubles of the man on the land that has been willingly undertaken by Sir James O'Grady.

He visits nearly every agricultural gathering in the state, and his address is always on the subject of advancement along organised and scientific lines. He made a special appeal at St Marys for increased support for the St Marys Farmers Pastoral, Agricultural and Dairying Association. In doing so, he stressed the point that it was only by organisation that success could be obtained.

There is no doubt that in a locality such as St Marys an agricultural association should be developed second to none in country centres of Tasmania. Devoted as it has been for some years to dairying, sheep-raising and coal mining, the locality must be in a very prosperous condition. Dairying has been of late years a most profitable undertaking while those who have been sheep-raising have been coining money. The good prices ruling for butter and wool have been responsible for this.

Mining provides a very valuable secondary industry and what is so necessary for the primary producers 'a local market'.

The display of pigs and dairy cattle was indeed good and testified that the residents are alive to the need for high class animals. In the dairy breeds Ayrshires, milking Shorthorns, Fresians and Jerseys were all well represented.

A considerable financial loss is likely to result due to the wet day, but with the determination to succeed which was expressed by the President Mr L. Eugene Ransom, there is little doubt that in a few years the deficit will be completely wiped out.

Thankyou to Mr Jack Miller for this bit of local history from a 1929 newspaper.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir

I would like to add another question to that of David Clement in regard to the slaughter house situated opposite the 'tip', Gray Road St Marys.

Should removal of this building be approved, funds raised, presumably from payment of rates to the Council, where then do the Council intend to relocate the building?

Would the town of St Marys benefit from 'the significant public benefit' of another something for tourists. to stop and have a look at, enjoy a barbeque or would we miss out all together yet again?

One must remember that the old Railway Station is still sitting vacant having been unfortunate enough to see the closure of the Nursery from that site some time ago now.

Why not develop this site also into something to get tourists to be more inclined to stop rather than simply drive through?

On making enquiries I was informed that the Beacon Foundation was also in some way connected with that site, is this true or just rumour? Wendy Bantick St Marys

ARE YOU THE PERFECT PATIENT?

(from the Royal College of General Practitioners)

Are you up front with your Doctor....do you tell him/her all that is relevant to your health?

A standard consult is 10-15 minutes long...do you book extended consults for medicals etc?

Dr has a personal life too...you wouldn't expect the bank manager to discuss your finances in public, don't expect the doctor to talk about your health problems at the football.

Sometimes your doctor is booked out, ill or on holidays...will you see a locum or another doctor if yours is unavailable.

"You've kept me waiting for hours"...If you've been kept waiting it's usually because of another persons urgent need.

Do you say "I was here first" or "I'd like to be seen now if I was that ill"...there will be times when people need to jump the queue.

"Can you come right away?"...This is fine in an emergency but keep your ills in perspective and go to the surgery when you can.

"Put me through to the Dr - now!"...It is not always convenient for doctor to speak to you right away and the receptionist may be able to help.

"I really did not want to bother you"...Do realise when it's important to get help fast.

Hello once again. We have got something a little different this week in that the majority of CD's reviewed are re-releases from the '70's. The late '70's saw a backlash against stadium type rock bands and through this grew a brash new raw sound known as PUNK. Bands rejected the traditional guitar and keyboard solos for a more power based sound. The punk movement was cultivated by one Malcolm McLaren in '76 from his London boutique. He was unashamedly honest about his intentions for nurturing punk music and the band he managed the infamous Sex Pistols, these intentions were to make big money. Which brings us to the first three CD reviews this week, when the phenomenon of punk hit there was immediately a shortage of true raw punk bands such as The Clash, Ramones, The Damned and of course the Pistols. So record companies and record shops who could not immediately find enough product to push turned to any up and coming bands and hung a punk label on them, such artists as Elvis Costello, Patti Smith, Blondie etc. all sadly found their way into the punk category.

CD REVIEWS: New York Dolls – "Rock 'n' Roll", The Stooges – "Self Titled" and Television – "Marquee Moon". These three bands all hailing from the USA were thrown in as punk pioneers or in the case of The Stooges being a '60's band a major influence on the punk movement. Unfortunately as with the bands above they don't immediately come across that way. New York Dolls were a rock'n'roll outfit headed by the singing talents of David Johansen and '70's guitar hero Johnny Thunders. They had a sound not unlike The Stones around the "Exile on Mainstreet" period, raw sometimes sloppy but always aggressive rock'n'roll. This CD contains 20 tracks, more than enough to give you an indication of the bands repertoire. Stand out tracks "Looking for a kiss", "Who are the mystery girls" and the brilliant "Personality Crisis". The Stooges headed by Iggy Pop or as he was known then Iggy Stooze released this CD in the '60's but they were not touted as innovators till the '70's. Sharing the same record label as the Doors they were allowed the same artistic freedom and pushed a lot of boundaries with their rough edged rock'n'roll. Stand out tracks "I wanna be your dog", "1969" and the much covered "No fun". Television headed by Tom Verlaine released this CD in 1977 when punk was at its money making best. They had a sound not unlike early Talking Heads and both bands were marketed as punk. "Marquee Moon" is a hidden treasure from an era that was sadly exploited in such a way that bands such as Television, Velvet Underground and John Cale were lost in the punk hype. Outstanding tracks "See no evil", "Marquee Moon" and "Prove it". All three albums ***

A PLEA FOR DALE

The hope with every deaf child is that eventually, through correct management, he will be able to communicate with and integrate fully into every day society. This is not always possible and there are many reasons for this, the most obvious being the extent of deafness i.e. mild-moderate, severe-profound and total. This is also dependant of whether the hearing loss is acquired or congenital.

For the majority of the hearing impaired there are many forms of help available to assist with communication e.g. hearing aids, Auslan and cochlea implants. Lip reading can be used with all of these. Hearing aids are used to amplify sounds, they do not distinguish between foreground and background sounds, therefore it's uses are limited for the profoundly deaf although excellent for the majority of the deaf community.

Auslan is a combination of fingerspelling, signs, facial expressions and gestures and is a recognised language in it's own right.

The cochlea implant (often referred to as the bionic ear) is an artificial hearing device designed to produce hearing sensations by electrically stimulating nerves inside the inner ear (cochlea). It consist of three components, the receiver-stimulator (worn internally), the speech processor and headset (worn externally). The cochlea implant is only used for the profoundly deaf who must meet strict criteria. The recipient must have little or no hearing in both ears and gain little or no benefit from the use of hearing aids. The implants do not return the hearing to normal or 'cure' deafness. Adults and children can benefit from the cochlea implants but children are generally not implanted until twelve months of age although assessment can begin as early as three months.

Unfortunately Tasmania does not have the medical facilities to cater for such a procedure and any person contemplating the operation must travel to Melbourne or Sydney. The habilitation is so intensive that it required the recipient to be at the hospital for therapy not less than once per week for twelve months. The State Government only has a budget of $2000 per person per financial year.

For some families, relocating to either city needs to be considered.

Dale is our nephew and he is only 18 months old with a congenital sensorineural deafness and he is profoundly deaf i.e. the amount of hearing he has cannot be registered. The cause of his deafness and that of his older brother, Jake, appears to be genetic, Jack hears and communicates with the assistance of hearing aids and Auslan. Dale, without this operation, will never hear. Whilst the cochlea implant may not be successful it is the only chance he has. For the operation to take place his family has to relocate to Sydney and it is for this reason that we are attempting to raise money to assist with the costs of sending their personal effects with them to minimize long term costs.

CRICKET NEWS Ol' Snake Eyes

The Annual General Meeting of the St Marys Cricket Club was held on Thursday 27th August. The meeting was informed of the outgoing committee's decision to re-appoint Wayne Gillies as Coach for the 1998/99 season.

The Club has also adopted a new constitution and has made application to become an incorporated body.

A strong new committee has been elected as follows:

Patron: Eric Bean

Vice Patron: Glen McDonald

President: Rick Smith

Vice President: Les Newman

Secretary: Kerry Taylor

Treasurer: Umesh Pratap

Players reps on the committee are Simon Lynch and Wayne Gillies with Jeff Webster also assisting. All other playing members are eligible to come to committee meetings.

The Club has been working hard on recruiting in the off-season and with 'Phantom' available to coach for the whole season St Marys will be challenging for it's first final appearance in many seasons.

Training will commence on Sunday 27th September.

The following Sunday (Oct.4), the Club has arranged for a coaching clinic to be run by a team from the University Cricket Club.

Coach Enrico Di Venuto (Michael's father) will lead the team. There will be further details in the next Valley Voice.

JUNIOR FOOTY by Kid Eager

The Junior footy season culminated in night matches against St Helens teams at St Marys on Friday 28th August. The weather was mild and the ground in good condition. All matches were very evenly fought out with several East Coast and Fingal Valley Juniors filling in successfully for St Helens sides to make up the numbers.

Players also received the rest of their Auskick packages and all registered players received a trophy.

The outgoing Junior Footy Committee can be justifiably proud that they have achieved their original object, that being to teach the kids footy skills and provide them with a lot of fun.

At the recent A.G.M. a new Junior Footy Committee was elected as follows.

President: Bruce Miller

Vice President: Jeff Webster

Treasurer: Gilbert Woods

Secretary: Debbie White

A big thank you to the outgoing committee and we hope the incoming committee can build on their success

Sports Centre News by Kackhander

Good fields in recent weeks have given the Club optimism, things are on the move and with the bowls season just around the corner thoughts are turning once again to summer. Firstly it's fantastic to hear that Peter Davern is on the mend after his bypass operation recently. Peter will have to be an adviser for a while, doctors orders, but we look forward to his return to the game perhaps after Christmas.

A big thanks go to Barbara Davern and Liz Baldwin for their efforts in running the bar since December last year but unfortunately they have to call it quits this week for a number of reasons. Great job and thanks to you both.

Greenkeeper Glen Hazelwood will be working differently from now on, at least for a while, and we appreciate how he has accepted the changes, thanks Glen.

Members please do not forget the beginning of the Club Championships this weekend. Entry is $4 per day per player. The final two rounds will be held the following weekend.

It has been decided that the first day's round draw will go in handicap order commencing with the first group off at 11am sharp. If you want to play in the right group please try to be there nice and early. After the first round the draw will be determined by scores only. A match committee has been appointed for the event.

It is highly likely that there may be more working bees this year and it would be good to see everyone come along every once in a while to help out, particularly with bowls duties on pennant days.

Ladies Golf Captain, May Cook has been quite ill recently with a mysterious virus and we hope she is feeling better.

Anyway until next time — good hitting and rolling.

St Marys Football Club News from Ol'Tige

The formalities for the Under/16's concluded Friday night with a successful Dinner and Trophy Presentation at the clubrooms. Although the boys were disappointed with missing out on a finals berth, it was nice to hear some comments from the players that they should have won a few more games, guaranteeing some finals footy.

Coach Scott Bean highlighted a difficult season, made a little more enjoyable by some performances by the team and individuals during the season.

The Best and Fairest count was conducted on the night, perhaps little surprise to anyone that the winner was Luke Faulkner, capping off his own individually brilliant season. Runner up was Damon Nehls, just reward for someone who, almost single handed, carried the rucking duties for the season. Others to poll well were Kyle Bean, Kirk Bean, Aaron Milner and Matthew Viney. Matthew's season was cut short due to injury, so it was more meritorious that he polled so well in the vote. It was a shame that injury occurred when Matthew was due to head to the Mariners training camp. Who knows, the end result may have been two boys from the area going to the Academy!

Once again the Ladies did a magnificent job with the catering and setting up of the Clubrooms, there did not seem to be too many hungry footballers or parents at the end of this evening.

M.C. Len Miles paid thanks to the parents who helped out during the year and asked for continued support for the future. Special mention to Ross Bean, Jason Lynch, Gary Laycock and Andrew Viney for their support.

Replies Please.

The Seniors and Reserves Dinner will be Saturday the 19th September. The Ladies Committee are desperately trying to cater for the evening, but many invitations have not been returned. Could all recipients simply fill in their invitation and return to the respective addresses or ring Tracy or Ruth. It would make their job a lot easier.

If you just turn up and expect a seat and a meal, you may be disappointed!!
