ST MARYS DAY CENTRE AT 'TAKE A SENIOR FISHING DAY'
AT ST HELENS ON WEDNESDAY 4TH OCTOBER 2006

Our happy group of people on the St Helens Wharf

Maisie Finney with the FIRST fish!

Heather Lester with the SECOND fish!

The Fishcare Volunteers were busy on the Wharf....

and Marine Rescue & the Water Police were busy on the water with Flare demonstrations throughout the day.

The St Johns Ambulance Volunteers kept a close eye on the fishermen and women on the wharf.

It was a beautiful day. Thanks to the Fishcare Volunteers for their equipment loan, help, prize giveaways and fishing tips throughout the day and the Break O'Day Council for supplying the facilities and such a delicious lunch. We had a lovely day out with the Day Centre.

Please note: Deadline for articles to be included in the next Valley Voice is: 5 pm Tuesday, October 24, 2006.

A LITTLE BIT OF HERITAGE: by Jim Haas

"The Brady Bunch"

For the first one hundred years or so of colonization in Australia, the settlers were continually weighted down by bushrangers, a term given to convicts who escaped from custody and "ranged the bush", stealing and plundering in order to survive.

The first recorded bushranger was John (Black) Caesar, a Negro thought to have been born in Jamaica, West Indies in 1764. He was transported with the First Fleet in 1788, as a pickpocket, and escaped in 1790 where he proved to be a nuisance around Sydney until he was shot and killed by a free settler in 1796.

After Caesar, it is estimated some two thousand bushrangers were active in Australia with Ned Kelly and his gang being the most publicised, leaving many others like John Fuller (alias Dan Morgan), Frank McCollum (Captain Melville), Andrew Scott (Captain Moonlight), Thomas Smith (Captain Midnight) and Fred Ward (Captain Thunderbolt), to fade into the background. But they were perhaps, as notorious as Ned.

In Tasmania there are some 115 recorded bushrangers with convicts such as Alexander Pearce, Thomas Jefferies, Matthew MacAvoy and Edward Broughton being some of the most tarnished, all of whom were hung for murder and suspicion of cannibalism.

The most interesting of our Tasmanian bushrangers, however, and one who was reported to have spent some time in the Fingal Valley, was Matthew Brady. Some evidence of his time in the Valley is a bald rock high on the hill above the Esk Highway near "Henbury" some five or six kilometers east of Avoca, which has been known for generations as "Brady's Lookout".

Matthew Brady was born of middle class Irish parents in Manchester, England in 1799. He grew up to become a handsome man, and received a good education, but while working as a groom, he forged his master's signature on a cheque to pay off a debt, and on the 17th April 1820 was sentenced to seven years transportation. He arrived in Van Diemen's Land on board the ship "Juliana"; but he strongly resented his punishment and continually tried to escape and be abusive towards his guards and officers. For this he received regular floggings of 25 to 50 lashes and was finally sent to the so called "Hell on Earth" prison at Sarah Island in Macquarie Harbor, on the West coast of Van Diemen's Land.

But Brady's persistence to escape was finally rewarded in June 1824 when he, along with 13 fellow convicts, stole a whale boat, and against all odds sailed through the hazardous Hell's Gates, the entrance to Macquarie Harbor, battled the huge seas of the west coast and made it to the mouth of the Derwent River where they came ashore, robbed a settler of his guns and provisions and hence the Brady gang began their days of ranging the bush.

Brady was a smart man and became somewhat of a Robin Hood, stealing only from the rich and giving enough to the poor to keep them on his side and help protect him from the troopers. As well, he was a huge hit with the women and enhanced this by making sure none of his men harmed a woman when they were carrying out a robbery. In fact when James McCabe, his right hand man, did harm to a woman, he shot him in the hand and threw him out of the gang where he was soon captured and hung.

For almost two years Brady and his gang ranged through the Van Diemen's Land bush from Launceston, east to the Fingal Valley and down through the midlands to Hobart Town and settlements around the south, all the while building a network of supporters from convicts and the poorer class people, all of whom loved and looked up to Brady as a hero.

But it was after he held up the jail at Sorell and released all the prisoners and locked up the guards that Lieutenant-Governor Sir George Arthur had had enough and posted a reward of 20 gallons of rum or a free pardon for any convict who gave information that led to the capture of Brady.

Brady responded to Arthur's reward by riding up to the Royal Oak Hotel and placing his own poster on the front door, it read: "It has caused Matthew Brady much concern that such a person known as Sir George Arthur is at large. Twenty gallons of rum will be given to any person who will deliver this person to me." Governor Arthur's reward finally worked, however, with one of Brady's men turning traitor, leading to him and most of his gang being captured in early 1826.

This was carried out near Launceston by free settler, John Batman, the man who eventually founded Melbourne in May 1835. On May the 4th 1826, in front of a huge crowd of supporters, Matthew Brady stood on the gallows in Hobart Town; his only protest was that he shared the platform with noted cannibal Thomas Jefferies. But as the trapdoor opened men groaned in pure anguish and the women cried as their hero fell to his death, leaving many to wonder what this handsome, intelligent, young Irishman could have achieved in his homeland if only he had not been caught up in the mayhem of transportation. The remaining five gang members captured with Brady were hanged the next day.

Break O'Day Council Report

This is the first of a community report that will be published after each Council meeting and will outline key items discussed at the Council meeting. This report relates to the meeting held on Monday, October 9, 2006.

- * Council reviewed its Committee structure and the internal and external Representatives.
- * A proposed review of the St Helens History and Visitor Information Centre was passed and will lead to Mayor Robert Legge chairing this independent Board for a period of six (6) months.
- * A proposal to examine the possibility of wheelie bin collection services for people with severe disability was also supported with a request that further information be provided at the November meeting.
- * Council approved a request to seek information from Mineral Resources Tasmania (MRT) on the existing state of knowledge of the groundwater conditions at St Marys and also requested further information concerning the hydrological conditions.
- * Council's Financial Statements for the Year ending June 30, 2006, were received showing a sound financial result.
- * Five (5) requests for Rate Remissions were granted including one for the Cornwall Community Hall.
- * A full report was provided to Council outlining the current status of many works projects carried out throughout the community.
- * Council also approved Round 1 of the Small Grants Funding programme for 2006/2007.
- * Two (2) Planning Applications were considered, one of which was rejected in accordance with provisions of the Land Use Planning and Approvals Act.
- * Council also agreed to a request from the Lymphoedema Centre to utilise one of the rooms in the St Marys Hall.

Further information on these and other items considered at the meeting, can be found by visiting Council's website at: www.bodc.tas.gov.au

Police Report

Recently both Constable TANNER and I had a rare weekend where both of us were rostered off. Upon returning to St Marys there were several burn out marks on the main street. Thanks to some concerned locals, I have spoken to the person responsible and that person will be charged under the anti hooning legislation.

If this incident had been observed by a police officer then we have had the power to seize the vehicle involved for 48 hours. From now on either Constable TANNER or I will be working each weekend.

I know that Constables BONNER and CRICHTON have been patrolling the road works temporary reduced speed zones and have issued several speeding tickets.

The AFL Grand Final weekend was a quiet one for police in the Valley. Its great to see people enjoying themselves responsibly.

With daylight savings here we expect that there will be a lot more boating activity. Police will be conducting landing point inspections as well as on the water inspections. Make sure if you are going boating that you have all the necessary safety equipment, permits and registrations.

If you have any police related queries, please do not hesitate to call or visit the station. Although CRIMESTOPPERS WEEK has finished, you can call the number at any time with information regarding criminal behaviour. The call can be made anonymously to CRIMESTOPPERS on 1800 005 555.

For urgent and life threatening matters call "000" but for non urgent matters phone 131 444

Letters to the Editor

I would like to thank Rainbow Retreat, Break O 'Day Woodcraft, SMACD, St Marys SubBranch of the RSL, Town Hall Committee and the Wombat Walk Weeders for their letters of support regarding my proposal to place bud lights in the trees that embrace the cenotaph.

I will place an artists impression of the effect the bud lights will have in the window of the IGA Value Plus.

Regards,
Wendy Brennan.

Congratulations to Peter and Ian for their award regarding Rainbow Retreat. A recognition well deserved.

Kind regards
Wendy and Reon

TRASH & TREASURE ROADSHOW Saturday 4th November 2006

The newly formed St. Helens group, Friends of the St. Helens History Room and Museum, are pleased to present their Trash & Treasure Roadshow on Saturday 4th November 2006 from 10 am in the Memorial Hall at St. Helens. This event is a prime fundraiser for the St. Helens History Room.

Group members are excited by the level of local interest shown already at having their highly prized 'treasures' valued by resident and visiting valuers on the day. Of course, there may be those 'trashy' pieces also ready to be submitted for valuing, this would of course add to the day's theme! All items submitted for valuing will incur a $5 charge and the Friends' group will take entries from around the area beforehand. Prior nomination greatly enhances the research associated with valuing items. Valuations will be available on the day between 10 am – 12 noon in the morning at the Hall, or between 1pm – 3 pm in the afternoon. Contact Kay Barraclough, President, on 6376 3029, for inclusion of items for valuing.

There will also be local collectors and their collections on display for your entertainment. There is a $2 entry charge. There will be 3 mystery items to test your knowledge of things historical, at .50c a guess, this is sure to generate lively interest. Other displays include a range of photos from the St. Helens History Room with unnamed or unknown entities. Come along and see if you can put a name to a face on some of the old local photographs in the St. Helens History Room's photographic collection. A raffle will be run during the day and if that doesn't pique your interest, just have a sit and enjoy a Devonshire Tea for $5 before you leave.

Enjoy something different for the November long weekend and make a day of it.

Wildlife of Tasmania Caring for Wildlife Caring for Orphaned Wildlife

Due to an overwhelming response to my letter in the last Valley Voice, I have written the following advice for people who may find an orphaned or injured native animal.

Most native animals brought to the Northeast Wildlife Carers by members of the public, are victims of vehicle or window collisions, dog or cat attack, trapping, shooting or electrocution. Our goal is to relieve the stress of these unfortunate animals and ideally, rehabilitate them back to the wild in a fit condition. These notes have been designed to give the animal a better chance of survival during short term care or in an emergency. Long term care requires greater knowledge of an animal's requirements.

If you find a distressed native animal, there are several important steps to follow which will reduce the stress of capture and help prevent further injury to the animal.

Before capture

Before attempting capture, observe the animal for any signs of illness or injury. Information can then be passed on to an expert to help identify the animal's problem. For example, a broken wing will hang, and an inclined head may suggest concussion or a damaged ear. Look for wounds, unusual behaviour, movements or posture such as lopsidedness.

Capture and transport

Prepare a suitable transport box for the animal before attempting capture. Cardboard boxes will need airholes punched into them and can be slippery for birds. Line the bottom of the box with newspaper, old towels or an old blanket.

The capture and handling of wild animals can be very stressful (for both animal and handler). Animals can become aggressive and difficult to handle when scared or injured. They may try to defend themselves with wings, teeth, beak or claws. Wear gloves for protection.

A confident yet gentle approach is best. At least two people are needed for the capture of larger animals such as an adult wallaby. If you are inexperienced at handling wildlife or do not have any rescue gear please do not attempt to capture the animal, instead seek expert help.

Most animals can be captured by throwing an old towel or blanket over them. Nets can cause more injuries. Wrap the animal securely or place it in a clean hessian sack or pillowslip and tie off the open end. Do not try and comfort it. Next place the animal and bag into the prepared box. Reptiles and echidnas are best scooped into and transported in large plastic garbage bins.

Keep the animal warm and quiet until you can get it home or get advice on its care. Do not allow the animal to be continually disturbed by people wishing to look at it.

Seeking advice

Seek expert advice, either by phone or in person, from a veterinarian or the Parks and Wildlife Service, or members of Northeast Wildlife Carers. The very fact that you managed to catch the animal usually indicates that something is wrong with it. The Parks and Wildlife Service has few funds available for treating injured wildlife, and these are generally reserved for rare species. Therefore, if you have an animal treated by a vet, you may be responsible for the cost (please ask your vet first), fortunately our local vet will not charge if you bring the animal for a check up first thing.

If you are unable to take on or continue in the carer's role, please contact the Northeast Wildlife Carers. They have dedicated wildlife carers available to care for wildlife. Phone 0417 107 105 or 6372 2973 (Submitted by Peter Power)

This article will be continued in the next issue

We would like to acknowledge the Parks and Wildlife site <http://www.parks.tas.gov.au/wildlife/care/orphans.html> which is also a great site in general for the public to understand about wildlife.

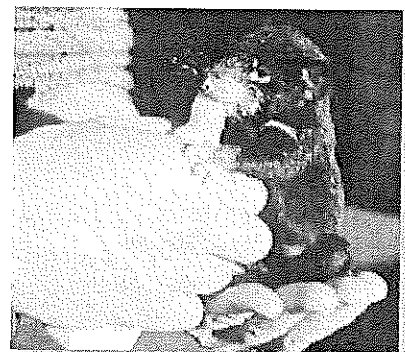

Northeast Wildlife Carers

Northeast Wildlife Carers: are a local group of volunteer wildlife carers based in the Break O Day municipality.

If anyone finds an animal or bird which is either injured or orphaned, please contact us on 0417 017 105 or 6372 2973 or take any injured animal directly to the local vet, who does not charge for this service if the animal has been taken for an examination first.

It is advisable to phone the vet first on 6376 1577 to seek the appropriate advice.

Any donations of old children's playpens, or old beanies, which are used as pouches, would be much appreciated.

Please note that the photo is not a recent one.

Carers now wear gloves when handling Tassie Devils because of the Tumor disease.

OUT OF THE WOODWORK by Reon Johns
Pres.6372 2094

The AGM was a great success, as 12 members turned up, not bad since we competed against the Grand Final. There is a lesson learned for next year.

There were few changes in the executive, I was returned as President, Eo was returned as Secretary, Peter Williams was elected as Vice President and Wendy Brennan was elected as Treasurer. The Auditor liked the way the books were handled and this is from all the effort that Pete Williams put in over the last 2 years.

I personally would like to thank all the supporters of our club who contributed their time, effort and money, thank you and I hope that we can count on your continued support in the future.

I will be contacting the Council for a certificate of occupancy in the coming week and this will pave the way for our lease. I believe that we are now ready and comply with all the necessary statutes.

We have a few projects on the go at the moment, some of these will generate some income and others are for the benefit of the community and community groups.

The Guild meets on the last Saturday of the month in the Goods Shed behind the St Marys Railway-Station, at 4pm.

St Marys Hospital Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary recently held the "Annual General Meeting" for 2006, at which the only change of office was that of President, to which Len Miles was nominated and elected to replace Colleen McGee who wished to retire from the position after years of service.

Our thanks and appreciation goes to Colleen for a job well done during her term in office, and congratulations to Len on his election to the position.

Office positions are:

President; Len Miles

V/President; Marjorie Spilsbury

Treasurer; Heather Lodge

Secretary; Kevin Faulkner.

Auditor; Murray Bennett

As our motto and aims are to contribute to the welfare and care of our patients we were able to cater to that role in the year gone by, by providing new TV's to the 4 new wards, provide a much needed "Drug trolley" at a cost of $1500 for use in efficient and safe patient drug administration, a new commercial quality "Mixer" for the kitchen, along with the normal provision of "Mothers day / Fathers day and Xmas gifts to the patients etc.

This of course is dependent on available funds which are raised during each year by dedicated members who are I might add, low in numbers.

So if you have an hour or two to spare each month your presence and effort would be greatly appreciated.

Kevin Faulkner. Sec.

DEVILS AT SOUTH SISTER! Logging Plans Must Be Halted

The Tasmanian Greens last week called for the proposed plans for logging at South Sister at St Marys to be immediately suspended, with the recent discovery of Tasmanian devil scats and dens within the boundaries of a Forestry Tasmania coupe until:

- (a) The recovery plan for Tasmanian Devils is completed;
- (b) A detailed assessment of the identified Tasmanian devil population is undertaken; and
- (c) The management prescriptions for the species are developed and approved.

Greens Shadow Native Forests spokesperson and Member for Lyons Tim Morris MHA said that the State Government needed to take charge of the Forest Practices Authority who recently informed his office that the "The Forest Practices Authority will not be rescinding this FPP [Forest Practices Plan] on the basis of the occurrence of the Tasmanian Devil within the South Sister area," despite such an action contradicting the Threatened Species Act 1995 as well as the Commonwealth Environment Protection and Biodiversity Policy Statement 3.6 for the Tasmania Devil.

"The EPBC Act Policy Statement 3.6 contains significant impacts criteria, which is supposed to provide guidance to land managers as to how they can assist in survival and recovery of the Tasmanian Devil." The Greens assert that the logging of South Sister may have a significant impact on the species and cite the following statement within the EPBC Act impact criteria:

- Lead to the long term decrease size of an important population of the species
- Adversely affect habitat critical to the survival of the species
- Modify, destroy, remove, isolate or decrease the availability or quality of habitat to the extent the species may decline
- Reduce the area of occupancy of an important population

"How can this Lennon Labour Government possibly allow logging to take place in an area where the devils are shown to live, without having a recovery plan in place?" Mr Morris said.

"It is completely unacceptable that the Forest Practices Authority will not rescind the Forest Practices Plan for South Sister in light of the discovery of devil scats and dens – is it not enough proof of the existence of the devils in this area?"

"What is the point of introducing protection legislation such as the Threatened Species Act 1995 and the Commonwealth Environment Protection and Biodiversity Conservation Act 1999 if they simply can be allowed to be overridden?"

"The State Government needs to come out strongly in defence of the iconic Tasmanian devil, and call for a halt to any logging plans for South Sister until a recovery plan for Tasmanian Devils is completed, and until a detailed assessment of the identified Tasmanian devil population is undertaken, and the management prescriptions for the species are developed and approved," Mr Morris said.

The Say by Cagerattler

Many years ago the original and widely congratulated document known as Townscape was formulated, with plans at the time to implement some of the concepts. Only recently this document has been looked again as a helpful guide to submissions for the Recreation Ground re-development, which should be of major significance to all Break O'Day ratepayers in the municipality.

Whilst I hadn't actually forgotten about it, because at the time of its publication, I was actually on the SMACD committee, I had forgotten much of the detail of it. It is a fabulous read. Having a quick glance through it again the other night, made me recall the excitement we held in the Townscape at the time.

Without going into any detail, let me just say, that given some resources, many of the conceptual plans in it are still very relevant to our town improvement more than a decade later, and perhaps deserve revisitation at a not too distant date.

The truly exciting thing about this community of ours is that the complacency of about a decade and a half ago is really now a thing of the past, and just watching what has already happened, is currently happening, and other long term future plans going on, gives great cause for optimism for the viability of our area. This is not just happening in St Marys, but also in Cornwall where some excellent community projects have been taken on and likewise at Fingal, where there are plenty of keen community workers.

I'd love to see the Townscape design used again for all sorts of future development, and I'd bet we'd all agree on that.

What do you think?

It's nice to know that our councillors read the Valley Voice. (even my stuff) Since the last issue, by chance, I bumped into one of our St Marys councillors in the street. He spoke to me about my request regarding nature strip maintenance matters.

He was very insightful and helpful, and suggested that through council channels he would seek the right information. To him, thank you for your interest in this and Cagerattler really appreciates that you took the time to notice the article.

Dance Day

On Thursday 7th September the Prep to Grade 6 classes all busied to St. Helens District High School for the annual Dance Day event. There were other schools attending too – Bickeno, Fingal and St. Helens.

Miss Owens (from St. Helens DHS) organised the event at St. Helens and Mr. Lydon was the MC. We had lots of fun socialising and dancing with our friends!

While we were not participating in Dance Day, we enjoyed the St. Helens foreshore: playing games on the grass and at the park and some students even went to the skate park and used their rollerblades and skateboards.

On the way back to school we stopped at Seamander for a walk along the beach.

Much appreciation to Miss Coleman, Miss Brown and class teachers who practised the dances with us.

Sports Centre news by Kackhander

Well done to everyone who supported both the AFL Grand final Day , and last week, the Tote day. Each day proved to be very successful. The key to these comps is fun, and both provided this for sure. Some special thank yous. Firstly to Macca for all his organisational skills, and a big commendation for his egg and bacon sangas, amongst the other culinary delights. No pun intended (well yes there is) but they went like hot cakes. Also to Barney and the others for the Tote day cooking, and all who assisted. Thanks heaps to Alana for some voluntary bar duties, along with Jack, Col, Brent and the others who helped last Saturday.

Nest issue we'll put the winners of the Tote day comp in the Valley Voice. They were unavailable at time of writing, but it turned out to be around 54 players, which is marvellous for its first outing.

Don't forget that coming up it's the Awesome Foursome challenge in November, the Caltex/BP Day as soon as a date is locked in, and a couple of other social days to go along with the serious stuff. November will also see the Mixed Foursomes championship, and in late November the trophy night and dinner will be held as soon as suitable dates are found.

The general idea for summer golf is to try very strongly for Saturday comps again, as well as Sundays. One hurdle is starting times will need to suit a smaller group of players, because others have bowls commitments. Tentatively, around midday is the idea, to allow our business owners more of a chance to play most weeks. Lets hear from you with any ideas, and also what you think of Chicken Runs recommencing.

To bowls now, and Opening Day is this upcoming Saturday. If some can come along to usher in the new season, particularly as host club, it would be really good. Details are on the board but bring your bowls so an actual game can be played.

We are still looking for new bowlers who are keen to have a roll. If you wish to try your hand, just turn up on a Thursday evening about 5pm, and you will be made most welcome. Pennant starts October 21, with an away game at Scamander.

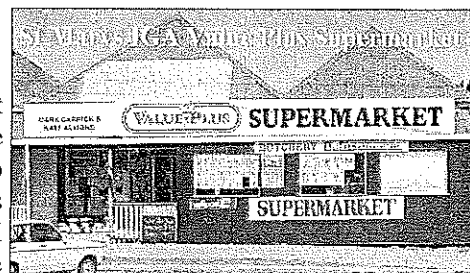

To club news: David and Karen are having an 'Italian night' on Friday October 20th. All the fare will have an Italian flavour, so to speak. Meals will be available for about 2 hours so come along and have a try at this feast.

Subscriptions are dribbling in at the moment, but it would be nice to see most paid soon, to allow the club confidence in sending off due affiliation payments to the Associations.

Thanks again to all our volunteers who continue to support the club. The 'Tuesday Crew' are legendary and now the bowls maintenance helpers are stepping up as well.

One glaring omission (not intentional at all) was to thank Jim Turner last issue for all his work on the scoreboards around the green. They are fantastic Jim, and we all appreciate the time consuming work on them.

Anyway, until next time, good hitting and rolling.
