BREAK O' DAY AUSTRALIA DAY AWARDS

by Jim Haas

On the 26th January 2007, Break O'Day Council held their Australia Day Awards Ceremony at the Tidal Waters Resort, St Helens. The ceremony, which was attended by over two hundred people, was organized by Council Community Development Officer Chris Hughes, with the awards being presented by Mayor Robert Legge and Deputy Mayor Margaret Osborne OAM. Entertainment was provided by the Suncoast Singers.

After the introduction by Mayor Legge, eight Australian citizen certificates were presented, one of which was to well known St Marys resident Trevor Coward. Following Trevor were: Mrs. Mel Aitkens, Bruce and Maureen Englefield, Sandra, Kelsey, Daniel and Steven Johnson.

Congratulation must go to all community groups and individuals who received nominations and awards, with a special mention to our own Gerald Aulich who is a well deserving Citizen of the Year. Gerald's wife Wendy and son Michael made it a family affair by jointly winning the Outstanding Individual Volunteer Achievement Award.

As Gerald said in his acceptance speech: "Volunteers in our community are not worthless, they are priceless."

A LITTLE BIT OF HERITAGE: by Jim Haas

The Second Church

Last year in the Valley Voice I talked about Christ Church Cullenswood being the first church to be built in the Break O'Day Plains in 1847. The second church was a little more modest than the Anglican Church, however. It was built by the Roman Catholics, under the guidance of Father John Fitzgerald, just a ten minute walk west on one acre of land donated by Mrs Thomas Ransom of "Millbrook".

Father Fitzgerald, it appears, was a dynamic man and one of Tasmania's greatest pioneers of the Catholic ministry. Indeed in 1854, he was the first Australian born Priest to be ordained in Rome. He was born in Hobart in 1830, then as a young man went to England and attended the St Mary's College in Oscott, before going to the English College in Rome.

For seven years from 1855 to 1862 he served his people on horseback from Campbell Town to St Helens and down to Swansea. We can only imagine the difficulties Father Fitzgerald would have faced each time he set out on his demanding trek over virtually unmade roads and, at times, flooded rivers to serve the needs of his parishioners.

Soon after beginning his ministry to the Break O'Day Plains he supervised the fund raising and then the building of their first Catholic church. It was described as a simple style timber building, some 40 feet long by 20 feet wide, with a beautiful bell tower at one end and a fine Gothic window over the altar. Although it was completed in 1858, it was not until the 30th January 1859 that the Lord Bishop of Hobart Town travelled to Cullenswood and with the assistance of Father Fitzgerald, held a Divine Service to consecrate the humble little building.

What a memorable day it must have been for the Catholics of the district when some 300 persons filled the new church to capacity, all of whom appeared to give His Lordship their undivided attention as he gave his sermon on the evils of intemperance. This, he said, was unfortunately too prevalent in this constituency.

After the sermon the collection plate was handed around and the magnificent sum of over 70 pounds was collected. The Bishop was more than pleased with this creditable amount and praised the Catholics of the district for their generosity. He said it was a sign of their appreciation for the zealous endeavours of their Pastor who, during the past three years, had labored most intensely for this project.

The little Church of St Mary at Cullenswood was rather short lived, however. Less than ten years after its completion a new town was surveyed three miles further east. The new town, which was eventually named St Marys after St Marys Pass, soon began to grow rapidly and by the 1890's had taken over from Cullenswood as the main service centre for the Break O'Day Plains. The people of St Marys were like the majority of English speaking people in the colonies, they had a deep love of the Christian faith and a house of worship was an essential part of the community, hence churches began to spring up.

The Wesleyans were the first to build their little chapel in Storey Street in 1884, followed by the Anglicans in Main Street in 1895. Finally the Catholics chose a high spot on the eastern end of town and built a fine church which was dedicated on the 9th November 1899.

The dedication of the Mary of the Assumption Catholic Church at St Marys, however, saw the end of the modest little building at Cullenswood that had served the community for forty years. It was moved to St Marys and forms part of a house in Newman Street.

The ministry of Father Fitzgerald too was short lived. It seems he took ill and returned to England in 1862 and died at Plymouth in 1864 at the young age of 34. The only reminder of his momentous part in our heritage is the old graveyard, which like the Cullenswood Church grounds, is the resting place for many of our early settlers. Names like Davern, McIntee, Bullock, Leech, Strochnetter and King are but a few that were dominant in pioneering the district. But John Fitzgerald and the significance of his contribution to the Break O'Day Plains appears sadly forgotten.

BOOK LAUNCH

As a Sesquicentennial present to St Marys, well know Cornwall identity and Valley Voice heritage writer, Jim Haas, has written and compiled a book called "150 Years of Heritage".

The book is made up of over 50 pages which covers the history of the Break O'Day Plains, as well as the industries, events, sport and heaps of photos, all of which are designed to help the reader learn about our heritage and remember significant times in the building of our wonderful, unique community.

With the help of Valley Voice coordinator Judy Spilsbury, the book is being edited and printed in St Marys, making it a completely local project. As well, all the work on the book is voluntary and sponsored by St Marys Association for Community Development, with all profits going back into the community.

The book will be available from various businesses around town from next week, or can be ordered from St Marys Online Access Centre on (03)6372 2005 at $10 per copy (Plus $3 postage if required).

Jim Haas, proudly showing the book he will have on sale soon.

Donation to St Marys Fire Brigade

After hearing of the magnificent work the St Marys Fire Brigade volunteers did during the bush fires in December, the committee of the 'Friday Market', Wilmot Rd in Huonville decided to make their donation this year to them.

In January, Mr and Mrs Ted Hayes, travelled to St Marys to personally present a cheque in the amount of $1000. Michael Aulich, St Marys Fire Brigade Chief, is pictured accepting the cheque from Mrs Joy Hayes.

The 'Friday Market' supports the Anglican Church, Red Cross and local Huonville schools.

The Say by Cagerattler

Welcome to 2007 in the Sesquicentenary Year, and the 40th year of the valley Voice.

First up, let's hear from you all about some of the things important to you, and let's also hope for responses whatever they may be to some of our topics.

As the Valley Voice concluded last year we had just seen the devastating fires in our area, and we counted the cost of them. Now that the dust or smoke has settled, and for many life has returned to normal, there are all sorts of issues emanating from those fires.

How do we feel about more hazard reduction burns to control fuel loads around our state?

Do we feel our fire management plans can be further improved on?

How do we feel about the community contact and information avenues, when these sorts of incidents take place, and how did we measure our local government response?

These sorts of questions may need to be answered and perhaps while things are fresh in our memory a public forum could be conducted to 'think tank' all this.

We all have a great admiration for everyone involved in the December fires, but that doesn't mean to say we still can't learn from this whole thing. Some little lessons and experiences may well save others or perhaps even ourselves if ever this was to occur again.

I wonder if our council would consider such a forum some time this year, and ask representatives from emergency services to take note of what might come from it?

What do you think?

Lohrey's Road Fire.

On Sunday Dec 10, 2006, at around 14.30, a call was received about a fire in the Lohrey's Rd/Cato's Rd area. Upon investigation a large vegetation fire was discovered.

Given the current weather conditions, which were very similar to Ash Wednesday, things were looking grim. Outside crews and aerial support were called in immediately, with the decision being made to go into 'property protection mode'.

This meant protecting property only, any attempts to try and stop the fire would have to wait until later when conditions were more favourable. The fire was too severe to try and control at this time.

While waiting in Lohrey's Road for trucks to arrive, a phone call was received from a Gardiners Creek road resident to say a fire had started in that area, (this was a spot fire from the original fire, spotting a distance of 6kms) meaning a re-deployment of a truck and a need for further resources.

The fire spread rapidly over the next few hours, leaving a wave of destruction behind it. At this stage there were eight Tas Fire Service fire fighting appliances, one helicopter, numerous Forestry fire fighting appliances and machinery on location.

As the night drew in, crews could start to be stood down for rest, leaving only minimal personnel on the fire ground, as it had become obvious by now that this fire was going to take considerable time and many resources would end up being involved.

The fire then turned into the worst fire the state had seen since Black Tuesday, 1967.

The cause of the fire was accidental, and started from a camp fire in the Cato's Road area, showing just how careful one must be when using fire outside. Without the support of the helicopters and dozers, this fire would have been much larger, and caused far more devastation. The helicopters in particular were an extremely valuable resource.

The St Marys Fire Brigade would like to thank everyone for their support during and after the fire. The generosity of everyone will be remembered for a long time to come.

I am not going to mention names, for fear of missing someone. The support from individuals, groups and businesses, with donations of much needed food, supplies, replacement fridges, refreshments, money and clothing, (for those from away who didn't have a change) was overwhelming.

I would also like to take this opportunity to personally thank all TFS, Forestry and Parks personnel from close and afar with a special mention to the St Marys Brigade members for their dedication and assistance in fighting this fire.

Michael Aulich

RED CROSS APPEAL FUNDS

The Mayor of Break O'Day Council, Robert Legge, announced recently that a further $70,000 will be directed to help 19 families who have been affected by the December 2006 fires.

This is on top of over $280,000 in cash assistance that has already been distributed to families, businesses, farmers and other organizations in the area.

"We are committed to getting real financial and other support to families as quickly as possible," Mayor Legge said. "I understand that this is a very difficult time for our community, so it is critical that we get it right, from the start. There has already been some support for those affected by the fires, but there is more to do," said Mayor Legge.

The assistance recently agreed to is the phase of assistance to be made available from funds raised in the Red Cross Appeal. These grants are to be paid directly to families affected by the fires, and represent some of the most urgent cases. The Council and Red Cross will continue to consider applications over the next 3 weeks.

Over $1 million is now available for recovery assistance to the community affected by the recent fires. This includes the $700,00 made available from the State and Commonwealth Governments and around $350,000 which has been donated through the Red Cross Appeal.

Applications for funding from the Red Cross Appeal can be lodged with the Council up until 2 March 2007, and assistance will be directed to those most in need as soon as possible after this date. Urgent cases will also be considered as applications are received.

Mayor Legge welcomes the appointment of Susan Powell to assist Chris Hughes and other members of the Break O'Day Council to work with the community and affected families on priorities for assistance.

Mayor Legge encourages everyone affected by these fires to contact Susan and Chris, to make sure that the Council directs assistance to those most in need.

"We want to know what families need to recover from these fires," Mayor Legge said. "I urge everyone who wants to understand what is going on, to contact the Council. We will also be actively talking to families affected by the fires over the coming weeks. Recovery from these events is a long haul, but we will be here for the community at every stage," said the Mayor.

St. Marys Tasmania

Sesquicentennial Year 2007

Its not every year a community turns 150 years old. Sadly some don't even reach their Sesquicentenary, as many Tasmanian communities have been and gone.

St Marys is a shining example of its people's determination to stick around, no matter what happens. There have been enormous changes in society. Industry closures and downturns, Government interference or inaction, but St Marys continues to defy attempts to take away services with a belief in its future and sense of community.

As with any year, 2007 brings many challenges and opportunities for the town. New businesses will open, the Town Hall is being ungraded with disabled toilet facilities and the dreaded acoustics issue addressed. The recreation ground is being improved by the Break O'Day Council working with the community to develop an action plan. Many events are organized to help celebrate the Sesquicentenary. With congratulations to the Pacing Club for kicking off our year.

The 3rd Annual St Particks Head Festival will be held on St Patricks Day, March 17. You can visit e.ScApe Café Gallery and vote in the St Patricks Head Festival Photography Competition.

The 'Old Railway Station' will open with a Lions Club breakfast BBQ and a community photo taken. In the afternoon, markets will be held and a community concert is planned for the St Marys Town Hall in the evening, giving you a chance to critique the acoustics.

Ten Days On The Island comes to St Marys on March 28th from 7pm at e.ScApe. FAR FLUNG FLICKS is presented by Screen Tasmania, and offers a selection of short films from Tasmania and New Zealand.

The Tasmanian Lymphoedema Centre will host a Mothers Day morning tea in the St Marys Town Hall, with only a gold coin donation, on Wednesday May 9th (prior to Mothers Day Sunday).

A major event will be in June with the Annual Winter Solstice Festival. The celebration will feature various local, Tasmania and interstate acts, and promises to be a great evening at the recreation ground.

July will see the celebration of transport, with 'the train-man' bringing his models to St Marys Town Hall from the 1st to the 14th. Then from the 24th of June a car show will be held in the hall. Also on the 24th of July, Gone Rustic will host the 'hanging of the quilts', in the Lions riverside park in St Marys.

Then on Saturday December 1st, it's the Sesquicentenary Celebration. The day will feature lots of fun and reminiscing, certificates awarded to long term locals, plus the unveiling of a sculpture celebrating our past 150 years, whilst looking towards the future.

OUT OF THE WOODWORK by Reon Johns President 63722094

With the bushfires under control and the New Year's celebrations out of the way, we can get down to business. A big thank you to all those furies who took part in the defence of our town... A job well done and much appreciated.

The Guild is currently running a basic woodturning course and the first two students are ladies, both are doing very well. When this course is over we will conduct another one. We intend to have courses that are of interest to all members and ones that will challenge or develop new skill sets.

There has been a lot of interest in the Guild from members of the local community. Some wishing to join and others want things fixed or made. All enquires are very welcome, and we are glad to help out whenever possible.

As part of St Marys Sesquicentenary celebrations the Guild is going to build a quarter scale replica of the first aeroplane to land in the town. The plans have been ordered and members are keen to start. When it is finished it will be exhibited at the History of Transport and car show in June. Then it will be placed in the St Marys Railway Station history room.

ST MARYS LIONS CLUB NEWS

CHRISTMAS IN ST MARYS 2006

Lions Club of
ST. MARYS

The lead up to Christmas this year was one that will never be forgotten. Fires burnt surrounding Cornwall, St Marys, Scamander and Four Mile Creek; houses burnt, gardens and bush devastated, some will never recover.

But - Christmas celebrations did go on as in past years, to hopefully give at least to our younger generation something else to focus on, other than fires. Tents were erected, jumping castle and stage set up, ice creams and drinks packed in ice, presents wrapped, sweets bagged up and most importantly, Santa on standby.

At 2.30pm, Faulkner's Green was almost deserted, but by 3pm children and families had arrived. The crowd swelled by hundreds.

Free tickets were handed out for raffle draws of presents for children and adults; chips, ice creams and drinks were given out, then it was time - Santa arrived in style on a motorbike, to the delight of all the children. Santa took late orders, talked and danced with the children and gave out sweets from his bag. 3/4 of an hour rushed by then it was time to leave with a wave and a promise to visit later that night. Ruth Aulich organised the children for a treasure hunt around the Lions Park area. More prizes were given away!

Ray Singline and friends entertained with great music and also assisted Lions Club with raffle draws between sets. 5pm rolled on and the Christmas Parade began.

The absolute stars of the Parade this year were our local Volunteer Fire Brigade - cheers and clapping to show the towns appreciation for the effort and wonderful job these men and women had done over the past weeks, putting their own lives at risk and on hold, as they fought to save our communities. Then, followed by Aurora, Ambulances and Paramedics, children on decorated bikes and some great floats. A wonderful effort put in by so many people.

1st Prize: St Marys Hospital Nurses

2nd Prize: Pirates of the Caribbean

3rd Prize: Jackson Spilsbury on his tractor.

After the Parade more music and dancing. The Lions Christmas Stocking was then drawn and the winner was Paul and Genevieve Aulich's family. Then it was on to the St Marys Hotel to dance the night away to the music of "Gypsy Rose". A great finish to another Lions Club Christmas Eve.

Ruth McGiveron. Vice President.

THANK YOU

St Marys Lions Club wish to thank most sincerely those businesses in our community who gave donations to our Club to enable us to put on such a great Christmas Eve Party.

The total cost of this party each year is around the $2,000.00 mark; so a big THANK YOU to those who donated cash and goods

We send our sincere thanks to all firefighters for doing such a fantastic job in the most difficult of circumstances. And while our thoughts are with the many people who have lost crops and property, we would also like to praise locals for their extraordinary efforts that restricted loss of life.

BOTHWELL INTERNATIONAL HIGHLAND SPIN-IN

Bothwell is the place to be from March 2—4, 2007, when thousands of textiles lovers from across Australia and the world will descend on this historic town in central Tasmania for the Bothwell International Highland Spin-in to show, develop and celebrate their skills with yarn and the friendship that is such an important part of this famous fibre festival.

A key feature of the spin-in, begun in 1978 by Barbara Fowler, is that visitors have the opportunity to try their hand at spinning, weaving, felting, dyeing and much more.

There are many competitions and displays, from the Longest Thread, where the aim is to spin the greatest length of 2-ply yarn from 10 grams of sheep's wool, to classes for stoles, scarves and freeform knitting.

There will be two international guests. Nilda Callanaupa from Peru in South America will give workshops in weaving and traditional Inca textile crafts, and Margaret Stove from New Zealand will run workshops in lace knitting and fine spinning.

Aboriginal basket weavers from Central Australia will demonstrate their skills and Grietje van Randen and Sonja Hindrum of Tasmania will showcase their felt sculptures and wearable art.

For 2007 the idea for friendship is being further developed. Everyone in the world is invited to collect one metre of thread from their friends and families, knot them together and send them to be wound on to a special "friendship ball". When complete, it will weigh two tonnes and the thread will be long enough to extend around the world at the equator, linking everyone for peace.

When complete, Bothwell will have its own "Big Thing" which will eventually be put on permanent display in the town.

Spin-in founder and patron Barbara Fowler says the Friendship Ball's progress can be viewed on the website (www.bothwellspinin.com).

"Our logo is a gathering of people from around the world," Barbara says. "The spin-in is all about sharing and friendship and fun. "Contributing to the ball doesn't cost anything – all it takes is a little bit of yourself."

"Petrol Vouchers for drivers"

St Marys Sports Centre news. by Kackhander

First to bowls and with the pennant team currently sitting in second spot on the ladder after a pretty decent, recent period, including a 3 rink win over the leading St Helens Blue Team, and a maximum result over Swansea the week before last, as well as other wins, there is hope for an elusive pennant.

There are two more games until the finals series, and it's pretty important to try and secure the double chance, now that a finals spot is just about guaranteed. As St Marys hosts the finals, we have a great chance to do well.

The East Coast Singles first round has been transferred until this upcoming weekend. With 8 St Marys players competing we need at least 6 markers as well, so all those who can assist would be much appreciated.

While still on bowls, a big thank you must go to Pauline and Drew Berwick, for their support and assistance with the Clive Berwick Memorial Triples. It turned out to be one of the best yet, and a special thanks to Longford Bowls Club, who brought about 6 teams down to add to the day.

Our caterers for bowls this year have been magnificent, and have been the envy of all our visitors. It's just incredible. To all of you, thank you.

There are high hopes of re-forming a ladies team for next year, and Janice Viney has done a great job recruiting a number of new players so far. If you are at all interested, give Janice a call or contact the club in the coming weeks and months. Wouldn't it be great to see them playing again?

To golf, and great news that the money for our new pump (etc) has arrived. This is marvelous news, and means that it's full steam ahead for the completion of the back of the course, over the next few months.

The Tuesday crew is also continuing with some great work, with all sorts of things going on. Some of this is tree planting and bunker rejuvenation. There has also been some great work on the roughs and older trees. Well done to you all.

Before we commit to fielding a team into the East Coast Men's Pennant this year, we will need to be sure of numbers who are interested in playing under the changed rules. Being a traditional club, some of our players have already indicated a less than favourable response, and are reconsidering whether to play or not under these rules. The club will only commit a team if we can be certain of having 9 players available all the time. To that end, there will be a meeting before the end of February to decide this. Please try and attend if you possibly can, and have your say.

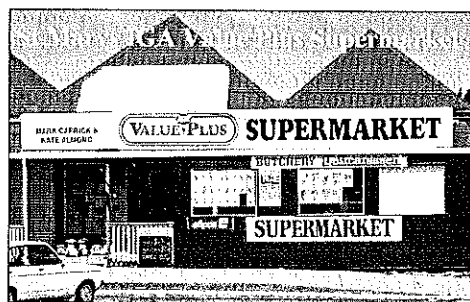

Well done indeed to Kodie Donald for his great success at the recent Longford Junior Tournament. That was terrific news.

Dale Ridgers also did very well at Freycinet last weekend, that involved a playoff for the Men's Championship. Top effort too.

The re-scheduled dinner is now Saturday February 24th, and invitations are going out to all to attend if possible. Sorry about the delay, but host club duties for bowls have made it difficult to find dates.

The club would like to thank Bobby, Russell, Beth, and anyone else who helped with the painting and redecorating of the ladies restrooms. What great work. It looks fabulous. Thanks so much to you all.

Anyway, until next time, goods hitting and rolling.
