Greater Esk Tourism Proposes a new Break O'Day National Park

As an outcome of The Tasmanian Forests Intergovernmental Agreement between the Commonwealth of Australia and the State of Tasmania, signed on 7 August 2011, 430,000 hectares of native forests were placed into Informal Reserves. Greater Esk Tourism Inc. has responded with a proposal to create a single National Park by combining the new Informal Reserves with the existing State Reserves that surround St Marys.

The name of the proposed National Park was derived from the Break O'Day River, its catchment and headwaters which constitute at least half of the area of the combined Park which forms a horseshoe shape of the western and southern slopes of the mountains around St Marys.

The proposed Break O' Day National Park covers around 11,664 hectares of public land, including seven existing reserves under the Nature Conservation Act and the Forestry Act. This area contains outstanding biodiversity values and landscapes and is home to a wide range of environmental variation from near-coastal to elevated peaks.

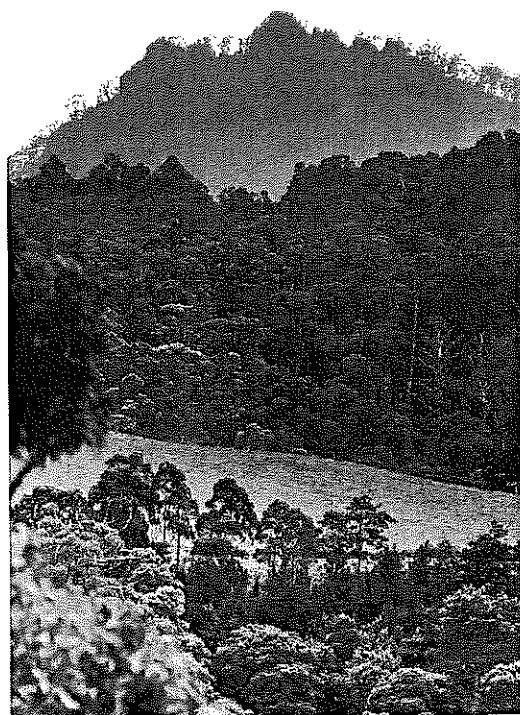

The proposal, which has been submitted to the State and Federal Governments and to the Verification Group led by Professor Jonathan West comprises of three general principles:

1. That the Informal Reserves surrounding the town of St Marys, together with existing state and forestry reserves, be permanently protected with the status of a National Park and that this park be called the Break O'Day National Park;
2. That the Break O'Day National Park be administered by a Conservation Management Trust (CMT). This would be an incorporated not-for-profit body comprising of community representatives drawn from conservation groups in the area, a Parks and Wildlife Services representative and local business people. The Conservation Management Trust would oversee the management plan and propose regulations relating to the overall management of the Park. The CMT would administer a bank account, budget, hire staff and manage visitors and volunteers. Through this mechanism the local community would be directly involved in the management of the park and the promotion of the area.
3. That the initial establishment costs for the Break O'Day National Park be assessed and identified through a process of working in conjunction with the Commonwealth Government's Regional Development Australia. This is a place-based project and comes under Regional Development Australia's plans for economic diversification.

St Davids

In the Eighteenth Century, when our early European settlers arrived in Van Diemens land, religion was a very important part of most people's lives, particularly the aristocracy. Given this fact, it was no surprise that one of the most important community building to be erected in a town was the church.

The first church services to be recorded in Hobart Town were conducted by the Reverend Robert Knopwood, a Church of England minister, who arrived with Lieutenant-Governor David Collins in 1804. They were open air services, held just a short distance from the water's edge on a piece of land adjacent to what we now know as Salamanca. In 1810 Collins died and was buried on the spot commonly used by Knopwood for his services and the land became known as St Davids Park.

Reverend Knopwood, however, was continually lobbying the Government for a more appropriate place of worship and after the death of Collins a temporary timber church was built over his grave. The word temporary was certainly the case, because only months after its construction it was blown over in a southerly gale.

The Reverend was out in the open again, but his continued lobbying saw Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Davey in 1813 gain approval from Governor Lachlan Macquarie, of the New South Wales Government, to build a second St Davids Church in Hobart. But with a Military Barracks and Colonial Hospital taking precedence, it wasn't until February 1817 that the foundation stone for the new church was laid. But not in St Davids Park, rather on the corner of Murray and Macquarie Streets.

The building of the new church was not all beer and skittles, indeed, it wasn't until January 1823 that the new St Davids church was consecrated by the Reverend Samuel Marsden, Senior Chaplin of New South Wales, who visited Hobart under the Commission of the Archbishop of Canterbury. The same year Reverend Knopwood, who had been Hobart Town Chaplin since 1804 and had put all the work into securing the new church, was succeeded by the Reverend William Bedford.

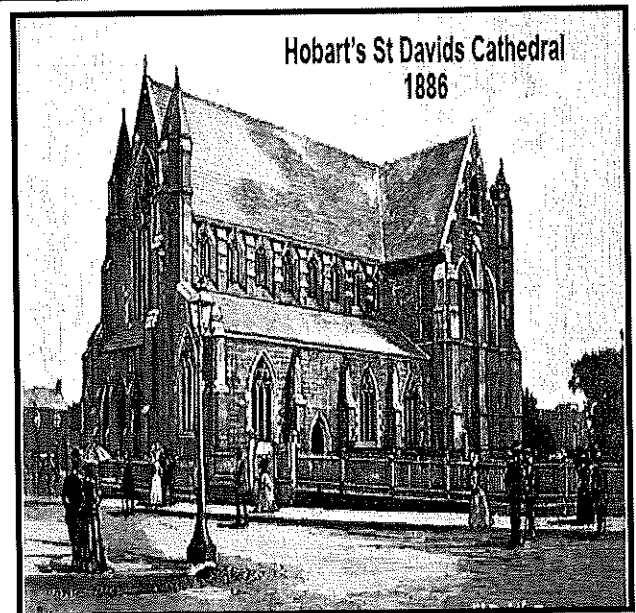

The second St Davids was never without its problems, it seems. In 1835 the steeple was declared unsafe and taken down. It was replaced the following year by another tower known colloquially by the locals as the Pepper Pot. On the 21st August 1842, by Letters Patent under the Great Seal of Queen Victoria, Reverend Francis Nixon was appointed the first Bishop of Van Diemens Land. In the same year Hobart was declared a city and St Davids Church became St Davids Cathedral.

In 1862 more land on the corner of Murray and Macquarie Streets was granted to the Diocese by the Crown and George Bodley, a leading exponent of Gothic Revival in ecclesiastical architecture in England, was appointed to design a third St Davids Church.

Bodley never visited Hobart to view the site but his design was approved and the foundation stone for the current St Davids Church was laid on the 8th January 1868 by Prince Albert the Duke of Edinburgh. On the 3rd of February 1874 a procession took place over the short distance from the old church to the new one. The procession was followed by the consecration of the new church by the second Bishop of Tasmania the Right Reverend Charles Bromby. By September 1874 the old St Davids Cathedral was pulled down.

1892 saw the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the discovery of Van Diemens Land by Abel Tasman and the foundation stone for a new Cathedral tower on St Davids was laid. Work did not commence on the tower, however, until 1929 when an anonymous donation of seven thousand pounds was received. Seven years later in October 1936 the last brick in the tower was laid. After 68 years the original plans drawn up by George Bodley were finally complete. Today St Davids Cathedral stands as a proud icon in the centre of Hobart and within its grounds is the centre of administration for Anglicanism throughout the State.

Fishing in the Scamander River

Sir, Will you kindly insert this grievance of mine, which is as follows:-

For many years I have been in the habit of netting in the salt water at the Scamander River, and catching a few fish, that have helped me to eke out a scanty livelihood. Now suddenly an act is passed to prevent anyone from using nets at that place.

I do not call it a river, as it is merely an arm of the sea where I and my mates wish to fish.

Now, as in my opinion, all the fish that can be caught there in nets would make no perceptible difference in the quality of bream, as they come in from the sea in countless thousands. I consider it a hard case that poor men should be deprived of a living for the sake of a few rich people who come at intervals to fish with a rod and line.

Yours, etc

A. PERRY.

St Marys Tigers Football Club Inc.

Season Report

The re-born Tigers have had a great year; we seem to have found a comfortable fit with Masters Football. We played seven games with five being at home. We won five games in total; only losing twice to Launceston but when you think the Launceston team is the product of a city of over one hundred thousand people we are always going to struggle against them but I can assure you that if we fielded our strongest possible team with a reasonable bench we could certainly make a good contest of it.

There are four of us who effectively are running this football club, Rick Lohrey, Michael Cooke, Garry Maher and I. Our varying work and life schedules make it almost impossible to meet with any regularity yet we have still managed to organise a full team for each game and all the other bits and pieces that go into organising a home game. I'm not patting ourselves on the back here but I have to admit at times it can be quite challenging and stressful but in the end we rely on an army of helpers to get us through.

I made a relatively brief, unscripted and impromptu speech at our presentation night on Saturday and in hindsight I was perhaps remiss in not thanking everyone that deserved thanks and recognition and I sincerely regret this, it was simply an oversight and certainly unintentional. To "Salty" and all the boys that attended training every week, to the water boys, goal umpires, score board attendants, gate collectors, canteen helpers, masseurs, bar helpers, ambulance drivers, runners, etc. etc. please rest assured that your efforts are genuinely appreciated. If any of you are reading this and you helped us in any way this year I hope you feel some pride in knowing that your efforts contributed to a very successful year for the St Marys Tigers.

There are also any number of vacancies for Committee Members and other organising positions so if you have an opinion or a view – step up and get involved!

There were a number of highlights for me this year but the one that really stands out was the game against Sorell we played at Windsor Park back in June. We ended up beating Sorell quite comfortably (which surprised the Sorell boys who play in a regular competition and train together twice a week) but in the space of four quarters of 15 minute football the boys transformed from a motley crew of journeymen to a cohesive, disciplined and extremely talented team of players. It was like a big sign lit up saying "The Tigers are here to play and to stay; treat us lightly at your peril!"

That form continued against Sandy Bay/Hutchins and culminated in a very polished display against Triabunna. There was also the great opportunity the players had to play at Aurora Stadium under lights and while we went down to a very strong and extremely well populated Launceston team it was a memorable evening.

The year ended up with a fabulous night at The St Marys Hotel where we had our end-of-season wind up and presentation (details of award winners elsewhere in this edition of the Valley Voice). Thanks to our hosts Bruce & Julie Cornelius and their capable staff and an extremely big vote of thanks to Ray Singline and his band who had everyone up and dancing through the night. Ray was sick with the flu but still put on a great show; Ray is a remarkable man, besides from being a very talented musician he has a wonderful sense of history about both St Marys and the footy club. I had a long chat with him during the course of the evening and was fascinated by his recollections of growing up in St Marys and his long association with the footy club.

Finally my sincere and heartfelt thanks to Rick, Cookie and Speed – it was a big ask but we pulled it off! To the players – you are a truly great bunch of blokes – good mates one and all and it has been an honour to be associated with you. I imagine Ken Maynard would be looking down from wherever he may be with a big smile on his face.

Harry Veldums,
Club President.

Vale Ken Maynard

As a mark of respect to a St Marys Football Club legend, Ken Maynard, who sadly passed away on Friday 9 September, the boys from St Marys Tigers Football Club wore black armbands in their game against Triabunna on Saturday 10 September.

Ken was a real stalwart of the St Marys Football Club; a gifted footballer and premierships player. Ken also painted the tiger sign that has stood under the old scoreboard for many years, which the club now hopes to restore and mount inside the club rooms. Many players and supporters will remember Ken as a great bloke, a true teammate and a generous contributor to the success of the St Marys Football Club. Our thoughts go out to his family; Ken will be well remembered and sadly missed.

Match Report

At the end of a reasonably successful season the boys were quietly confident that they could get the better of Triabunna in the final match of the year. We went down to Triabunna twice last year and lost both encounters so the boys were pretty keen for some revenge.

Due to a variety of circumstances we have not been able to field our strongest possible side at all this year and this was also the case on Saturday but it was still a formidable side and the boys looked as keen as mustard as they ran out onto the ground. It was also good to have enough players to allow a real "bench" so that we could rest and rotate the players. Rick Lohrey did a great job motivating the boys and organising the interchanges.

The first quarter was a very tight affair as the two sides sounded each other out and at quarter time St Marys were up by a point. In the second quarter the Tigers really started to hit their straps. Erin Carr and Chris Smithurst were controlling the centre and there was a procession of long clearing kicks to the forward line. Ray Squires was sharp up front and Darren Jones, Chris Turner, "Banger" Kringle and Richard Gee were all scooping up the crumbs at the fall of the ball and Rick Crossingham was dominating the ruckwork.

The St Marys boys were really starting to sizzle; Craig Woods was everywhere; as usual Michael Cooke was in the thick of it and was a master at clearing the ball out of the pack. Leighton Jordan was also strong and Garry Cooper, Brian Smith and the rest of the backs simply erected a brick wall across the backline and the Triabunna boys just couldn't penetrate the strong St Marys defence.

St Marys really looked strong, the standard of play was extremely high and the level of talking, team work and backing up was just superb. In the end St Marys ran out comfortable winners 14.8 92 to 3.0 18.

Goal kickers – R.Squires 4, D. Jones 2, R. Gee 2, E. Carr 1, R Crossingham 1, C Woods 1, R. Salter 1, "Banger" Kringle 1. Best Players – R. Crossingham, R. Squires, C. Woods, L. Jordan, M. Cooke, E. Carr, C. Smithurst and R. Gee.

As always thanks to our helpers; the water boys, scoreboard attendants, the boys who helped out Triabunna who were short a couple of players, Kerry and Rachel in the canteen, Grant and Speed in the bar and in particular Leigh Spilsbury who came out to umpire the game at very short notice.

Our thanks also to the Triabunna boys for coming up. It has been a very successful year for the Tigers and I'm sure everyone that came along to watch the game thoroughly enjoyed the great showing put on by the St Marys boys. St Marys has a team that St Marys and in fact the whole district can be extremely proud of and there is every indication that St Marys can become a real force in Masters Football in Tasmania. For Rick Lohrey, Garry Maher, Michael Cooke and I it was a real pleasure to be associated with such a fine group of men – it gives you great incentive to keep plugging on.

To bigger and better things in 2012.

Harry Veldums,
Club President.

Letters to the Editor

Vol. 44 No 11 September 22, 2011

I wonder how many people realise that no matter what plan is adopted for the new look Main Street, WE ARE GOING TO LOSE HALF THE CURRENT PARKING SPACES??????

If you are concerned about this, you might think about contacting council or attend the next meeting.

Kim Chappell,
Main Street Clothing.

Letter to the Editor

I read with interest the article titled "Another government band-aid on St Marys Pass" by Rene Hidding MP Liberal member for Lyons. It appears that the essence of this article is focused on the St Helens community. The Break O'Day municipality does not just consist of the east coast and in particular St Helens.

When St Marys Pass is closed it affects ALL of the Break O'Day.

To suggest that an alternative route is a long term solution is admirable, however, it must be remembered that the Fingal Valley businesses rely on passing traffic in order to be viable. Is this Rene Hidding's way of backing a motion presented to council by Liberal party member Councillor Schmerl to have tourist traffic diverted via Scottsdale along the Weldborough Pass?

At what cost to residents and businesses in the Fingal Valley who are also struggling? Tourism visitors' numbers are down nationwide due to the fact that the Australian dollar is at present at record highs compared to the American dollar. Common sense dictates that Australians will travel overseas and overseas visitors will not come here because of this.

The Pass has always had problems due to the nature of the geography and what is forgotten is in 2006 and 2007 St Marys pass was subject to horrendous bush fires which burnt off most of the vegetation which held the soil together. Also we have had January, February and March record rainfalls. This led to a collapse of the St Marys, Elephant and Weldborough Passes.

For any solution to work it must benefit all residents and businesses in the Break O'Day and not exclude some and advantage others.

Cllr Reon Johns.

Market Day

Isn't it great to see St Marys Hall come ALIVE the first Saturday of every month?

Yes the MARKET is the reason! Last month there were 18 stall holders selling their wares, ranging from fresh, local produce to assorted bric-a-brac. Now, with the warmer months approaching, there will be even more I'm sure.

As well as the excellent purchases to be made, there is another aspect which makes these monthly markets FANTASTIC and that's the community spirit they bring out. The atmosphere inside the hall (and outside too) is one of camaraderie, friendship and happiness. I don't think anyone could walk around the stalls without stopping to have a chat and a catch-up with fellow locals.

Challenge yourself if you dare!

Some of the things you would have missed if you didn't make it to the September market (and why didn't you?) Freshly baked bread, fresh locally grown produce, sauces, teas, pestos, and soaps...lovingly created hand knitted beanies, scarves and hats, kids jumpers/cardigans, chenille clothing... Great range of CDs, DVDs, plants, joy candles, toys, games, fudge, collectables, sausages, books galore—as low as 50c each... And if all that's still not enough, there's also second-hand clothes, household goods, amazing local artwork, natural health products, bulk herbal teas, free lollies for the kids...

And to top it all off there's the Arts Cafe inside, selling the yummiest selection of soups, casseroles or Dahl, plus teas, milo, and coffee too.

It's a great way to spend a Saturday morning, but don't be in a rush because you're bound to get caught up stopping for a chat or two, or three or four...

See you there on Saturday the 1st of October.

Kelly Farrell.

Local writer wins awards

There are many interesting people living in and around the St Marys area. Falmouth author, Amanda Lohrey is one of them. On the 6th September Amanda won two prizes in the Queensland Premier's Awards for her latest book, Reading Madame Bovary.

With this book Amanda won the best fiction award and with the same book she also won the Steel Rudd Award for best short stories. In the history of the Queensland Premier's Awards no author has ever won two prizes with the same book. This was a remarkable outcome and what made it more so was only three other Australian authors have every won a major literary prize in Australia for a book of short stories. These were David Malouf, Helen Garner and Tim Winton.

There were two separate panels and a total of eight judges for these awards and the judges' final decision was unanimous in both cases. For the award for best fiction the judges said: "Amanda Lohrey's Reading Madame Bovary is a refined and beautifully crafted work. This collection of stories – the 'best of Lohrey' from the last 15 years – is highly literary and technically brilliant, and also enjoyably readable. At times subtly experimental, but always wise and astute, these stories explore the dilemmas of modern life with sensitivity and passion. This book exemplifies the rich texture of Australian literature and the sophistication of literary talent".

For the short story Award the judges said: "Amanda Lohrey's Reading Madame Bovary confirms the author's ongoing importance as a writer who seeks to understand ethical conflicts and the world of action alongside questions about faith and shared spiritual belonging. The author finds her characters at the brink of small disasters and prods them to unlock the mystery at the heart of the mundane. "Fluctuat nec meretur", one of her protagonists says, "we are tossed by the waves but we do not sink". The collection is marked by interiority, intelligence and the relaxed assurance of a master at work".

On With The Show...

is the next production for the Suncoast Singers on Sunday Oct 2nd at 1.30pm to be held at the Portland Hall in St Helens.

Obituary:

On Friday 26th August 2011 Geoffrey Field Dean died of complications arising from an operation. He was 82. Geoff, who will be remembered by many residents of St Marys, suffered from the lifelong addiction of writing and was writing short stories right up until the time he went into hospital for the operation.

In 1968 Geoff and wife Liz and a small group of enthusiasts began the Valley Voice. In those days the Valley Voice was typed up and run off on a hand operated Gestetner machine.

In the 1960s Geoff and Liz farmed the family property, Seaview at Germantown. They began the Valley Voice because both of them thought the community should have a public voice and both of them were interested in writing. Liz died of cancer in 2003. Geoff went on to be a successful short story writer and in 2007 won three national short story awards. He also had some of his work made into a television drama by the ABC.

Geoff was an adventurer who worked at more than fifty different kinds of jobs in his youth. He loved a good joke and had a strong sense of the ridiculous. Here are some comments he placed on his Blog: "You can't be taught to write: its only something you can learn." "A vivid imagination is the cheapest mode of travel." "Look, you have to believe me. I tell lies – about everything – and that's the truth."

We will miss him.

Andrew Lohrey

Vote 1 Hannah Rubenach for Deputy Mayor

Having lived at Gray all of my 33 years and been a councillor for almost two years; I now wish to use my skills, experience and attributes in the role of deputy mayor.

What I see as key areas to focus on for the next 2 years:

- projects promoting holistic wellbeing and community participation, especially for the disabled, aged and youth;
- improving council's communication, consultation and interaction with the community;
- community safety and emergency management;
- community arts, culture and heritage;
- the protection of our beautiful natural environment and indigenous heritage;
- comprehensive planning for the environmental, social and economic sustainability of our area;
- maintaining and improving infrastructure, such as stormwater management, roads and bridges.

Authorised by Peter Rubenach, 36 Dalmayne Road, Gray, St Marys.

THE FUTURE HAS ARRIVED...

The Vortex Healing Centre now offers the way of the future in healing.

Sound/Frequency healing.

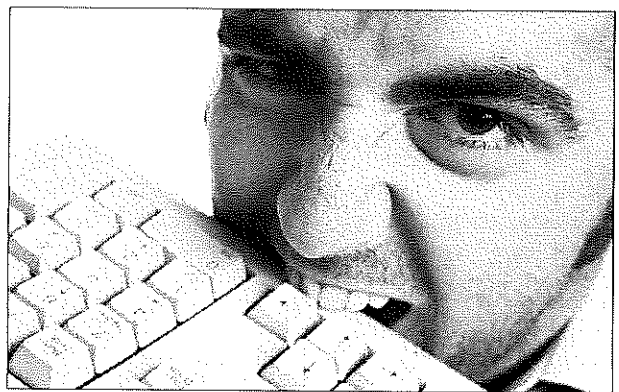

Everything in life has a frequency and each frequency has a sound. The Body has a frequency but any illness or disharmony has a different frequency, our new healing modality has hundreds of frequencies programmed into it. A frequency, when sent back into the body can actually nullify the frequency, and therefore the disease.

The Rife machine, which is known to many here in St Marys (also available at the Vortex Healing Centre), has many success stories to its credit. It too uses frequencies.

For the first month, the treatment will be available at half price, $20 a session. It is painless and simple.

Also available at the Vortex Healing Centre:- Massage, Naturopathy, Meditation, Spiritual healing, Life Coaching, Chakra balancing.

The Say Cagerattler

In a fairly short time we will again be looking at candidates for Local Government, and much later on as time passes, both State and Federal elections in the future. It really saddens me that the big political parties are talking about and in some cases already putting endorsed candidates up for local government elections. THIS IS WRONG and the last person I'd vote for of any persuasion in Council elections is a member of any one of the Political parties. The only true Councillor or Mayor has to be fully independent of political party room directives.

Independent has to be exactly that, ESPECIALLY AT COUNCIL LEVEL. The paramount thing for me also is that any elected local government person represents only the constituents of the residents of the municipality and additional to that is that surely the councillor also carries over the majority views of the community and doesn't have their own agenda.

Sadly, at State and Federal level our politicians are either mindless servants of their parties in one way or as some of our pollies have done recently using minority advantages to push their own little barrow on issues they perhaps haven't balanced with every side of the argument. In either case this cannot be an ideal circumstance, can it?

I fully appreciate that being a politician at any level is not easy and the old adage of never being able to please all of the people all of the time is true but... There is absolutely no reason why they can't talk to all proponents of the issue at hand and fairly, then vote as the majority would wish on the matter. If this somewhat perhaps simplistic approach was taken more often then maybe a lot more people would have greater respect for the final decision made. So, as a starting point, at the upcoming Council elections perhaps we need to clarify for ourselves what the candidates are really there for. I will be asking a few of them these questions and wish them well..

What do you think?

THANK YOU

I would like to thank all my clients and customers in Real Estate that have supported and encouraged me over the last 15 or so years. I have retired, it is official, I will no longer be working in this industry. For those that I have developed a friendship with, I will be moving to Hobart early 2012, as Cherie needs more than what I can give her here, and I have had an eleven year remission with my own health, that is now deteriorating, so will need the support of my specialists and family.

To the St Marys and Valley People, yes I will be sad to leave, but all good things come to an end. We've seen good times, great times, sad times and bad times, but my time here- I am truly grateful for, loads of life long friends and sense of community, memories that I will hold in my heart till the lights go out for good!

Unfortunately, there is no-one within the Towns Shearing Company that can cover my properties so below are my recommendations...

St. Marys Gallery to host Material Girl Exhibition

There are not many opportunities for Tasmanian contemporary female artists to celebrate and promote their work. In recognition of this, Tasmanian Regional Arts offers a major art award and exhibition each year called Material Girl. Originally all entries were required to be textile works. However, the criteria are now more relaxed and include art work in any medium.

The theme for 2011 – 'Women Behind the Wheel' – offered much scope for the imagination. The entries reflected this, with works ranging from paintings to sculpture, handmade books to digital art, printmaking to ceramics, and several textile pieces. Of the many entries received, 60 were juried as finalists.

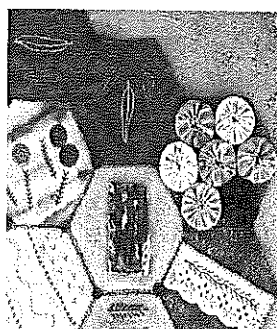

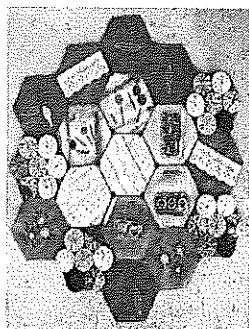

The prizes on offer were substantial, with the major award for Overall Excellence being for $1,500 (sponsored by Rio Tinto Alcan). There was also a Premier's Choice Award ($750); two Zonta Awards (each worth $500), and a People's Choice Award ($250). The awards announcement and launch were held on Friday 18 March at 6pm at the Burnie Coastal Gallery.

From April, a selection of work by finalists and winners began touring the state. This means that rural as well as urban centres have a chance to host and enjoy the art works on show.

In September/October, St. Marys will be the venue for the 'Women Behind the Wheel' touring exhibition. Break O'Day Regional Arts and Gone Rustic Studio and Gallery will host this inspiring and varied selection of art works so that they are accessible to the local community.

Gone Rustic specializes in exhibitions and sales of textile arts, from quilts to mixed media, including quality handmade cards and gifts, in traditional and contemporary styles. Local pieces, including art works by Rita Summers, are also on display and available for sale, as well as collectibles.

The exhibits in the 'Women Behind the Wheel' touring exhibition are for sale also, but must remain on tour until its completion in November. Entry to the exhibition is free.

CARING
COUNTRY

Splash Update

Take off in approximately one month. All's getting pretty exciting now...costume collection and fine tuning cars and inventing our daily tricks and fun stops is all on the priority lists!

This is always the time for the community knockers to rear their ugly heads as well, so to put a few of them straight, all sponsored monies are sent to Variety the Children's Charity. All fundraising days monies are sent to Variety the Children's Charity. All collection tin monies are sent to Variety the Children's Charity. All printing expenses, stamps and letters are paid for by the crew! All motor vehicle repairs and preparation are paid by the owner of the car (myself), All petrol expenses on bash, are divided and paid for by the crew. All accommodation expenses on bash are divided and paid for by the crew. All meals on bash which are organised by Variety are paid individually by crew at a cost of $530 each.

So usually for individual bashers it costs personally around $1100, which includes meals, petrol, and accommodation.

All costumes are paid for by the individual crew members.

All bashers have to have police clearance to participate.

Every year since I have been involved, I've asked community members to join us in what is a holiday of a lifetime, unfortunately- none have taken up the invitation, so hence after 15 years of asking, you just can't ask anymore! This year would have been the perfect year for a trial run as we are at St Helens for 2 days. We do have one spare seat this year but you would have to ring me by 23rd of September if interested...partial (5days) or full (8days) 0427 560 565.

Every dollar makes a difference. When you give to Variety Tasmania, you can be assured that your donation will make a difference. With your money, we can buy practical and tangible aides including wheelchairs, walking frames, communication devices, hospital beds, nebulisers, scholarships and much more.

All donations $2 and over are fully tax deductible. Cheques made payable to Variety the Children's Charity.

If you have received a sponsorship form and do not wish to donate, please return in the stamped addressed envelope that has been provided, Thank you.

We would like to thank all these people that have donated as sponsors:-

BIG SHED STUDIOS

I'm in the process of putting together a website for Break O'Day Regional Arts and I am looking for photos etc of any relevant events and people. eg Markets-stalls, stall holders, people there, any performances etc Winter solstice - past years and more recently Bush dance, Visiting performances, concerts and anything else that might be relevant / interesting.

To promote the St Marys and Fingal Valley area I am also looking for photos of activities that can be done in or from the Valley - bowls, golf, bush walking, trout fishing, cycling, harness driving /racing, looking at/for historic sites etc. beach fishing, sea fishing, scuba diving, canoeing, kayaking etc., etc., etc.

I am hoping to collect photos and also take them so let me know when and where an activity "adventure" might be on.

Hope to here from Mariton House
you. 1 Irishtown Rd

Many thanks,
Diana Foster.

Marine Wildlife & plastic pollution seminar

Sunday 23rd October

2pm – 4pm

Bicheno Memorial Hall

The Earth Ocean Network (EON) will host a seminar by Dr Jennifer Lavers on the global problem of plastic garbage endangering the lives of marine wildlife. All welcome - its free and afternoon tea will be provided.

Since the world's oceans have no boundaries, wind & wave patterns lead to the development of Gyres/garbage patches. Our garbage can end up a long way from Australia.

Dr Jennifer Lavers is a Research Fellow in the Institute for Marine & Antarctic Studies and a zoologist with the Tasmanian Museum & Art Gallery. Her studies of the Flesh-footed Shearwaters, which breed on Lord Howe Island, have shown that 96% of the birds have ingested plastic and the population has halved since 1978.

Keep Australia Beautiful has accepted her project 'Marine wildlife & plastic pollution' as one of their campaign projects for 2011/2012.

Jenny is very excited about coming to Bicheno & happy to be asked any questions – her contact details are on the website.

St Marys Sports Centre Inc. news Kackhander

Thanks to Macca, Col and the crew who made our first Saturday comp for ages a great success last weekend. We had a great field of 12 players in the stroke event with a few missing that may well play as time goes on. Especially good news was that a quarter of the field was up and coming junior players.. Well done Chris Arratta jun. Nathan and Hayden Dawson and a special thanks to Bobbie Harwood who walked around with them mentoring them as competition players. Thanks Bobbie for that. VERY IMPORTANT.

We've had a fair bit of criticism over the lack of 18 hole comps of late so the objective over the next few weeks is to fix this situation, hence Macca's efforts. However we need the ones wishing this to occur, to get behind the club and play as often as they can. There is enough, even with the 'bowlers' out of the equation, to get at least two groups of players to have a game every single week but attendance is essential. Please give it a go if you wish Saturday 'proper golf' to stay. It's now happening but the onus is on the players who want it, to support it. Enough said.

Congratulations to Col Payne who had a terrific game winning Nett and Gross and nearest the pin also. Thank you to Mark and crew at St. Marys IGA who were the trophy donors as well. Much appreciated. Next Saturday September 24th is single stableford. It's 9.00 am start. See you there...By the way THE COURSE IS SUPERB...

To bowls, and thanks to all those attending the meeting last Friday evening despite the footy on TV. One thing decided was Opening Day set down for October 3rd, so if you can attend or help out it will be greatly appreciated also.

This Friday night is our next tucker night and cost will be $15 for Pizza and Pasta Night. Please book as early as you can for the obvious reasons.

Finally, can we try to organise our subscription payments fairly soon. If you wish to pay outright, instalments or even direct debit it will be great. The sooner the subs are sorted the sooner we can do the necessary affiliation process to the Golf and bowls statutory bodies. Thanks.

Until next time, good hitting and rolling.
