The Inevitability of Change

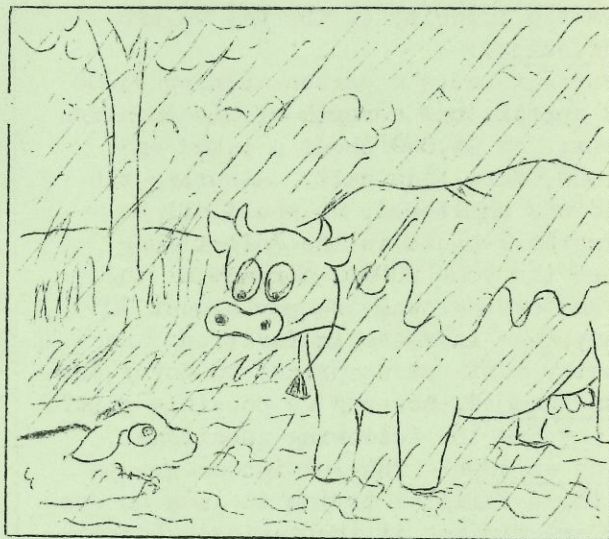

"Future Shock" is the title of a book written by Alvin Toffler, an American journalist and University lecturer. It is about change and how we adapt to it. It is about those who seem to thrive on change as well as those multitudes who resist it or seek flight from it. It is about our capacity to adapt. It is about the future and the shocks that its arrival brings. Jobs are changed more frequently, homes moved, fashions adopted and discarded, knowledge gained and outdated, ideas created and used up faster and faster.

Totally new concepts in biology and technology reduce us to naive visitors in the world set on an acceleration course towards advances far exceeding anything man is yet psychologically or morally prepared to live with. Not surprisingly we feel disoriented. We contract the primary disease of the future - future shock. The symptoms are already apparent: they range from anxiety and senseless violence to physical illness, depression and apathy.

Victims often display erratic swings in interest and life-style, followed by an effort to "crawl into their shells" through social, intellectual and emotional withdrawal. They feel continually harassed and want desperately to reduce the number of decisions they must make. Unless we are afraid to face facts, or unless we try to ignore facts, then we must reckon with change. There is little we can do to alter it. But how do we handle it?

I doubt whether any previous generation has faced such world shattering changes as ours...atoms...space...revolution in morality, culture, science, technology and theology.

Its strange isn't it, that we are frightened by change in our own time, even though we welcome it about the past...even celebrate it! Once people believed in a three-decker universe, that the earth was flat, that the world was only 6000 years old. Once we accepted slavery, child-labour, the explo exploitation of women, the harsh treatment of employees. We have welcomed changed attitudes to these matters; but now change threatens our security. We fear the unfamiliar. Social change has been an essential feature of human history. To face change with courage and intelligence is to discover possibilities for service and usefulness that we never imagined could exist. On the other hand to try and stand still when the world is moving is to court disaster.

"Stop the world - I want to get off" may be a catchy title for a musical, IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR US.

Dear Sir,

Your leading article in "Points to Ponder" in the last issue concerning the wages-prices spiral made interesting reading, and since it came at a time when most of us are studying our taxation sheets, was also very timely. While many of us may drool at the thought of earning $200,000 or thereabouts by the year 2000, a quick look at the current tax rates would shatter us, and shows the idiocy of the way we are progressing.

At current rates a person earning \$4000 pays approx. one seventh of his earnings in tax; on \$8,000 about a $\frac{1}{4}$ and on \$40,000, more than half. Assuming the table was unaltered, we would all be paying 66.7 cents in the dollar long before the year 2000. Already at the current average wage we pay almost 30% of any wage increase in Taxation. As Industry must put up prices to cover our gross incomes, how can we possibly gain?

One may ask the following questions: How do we cope? The low income groups and those families trying to live on one wage are finding it increasingly harder, and have nearly reached the stage where it is impossible. Those who are prosperous live on two or more sources of income or overtime payments, or have gained from earlier investments. Why does the Government allow it? I make no claims to being an economist, but it would appear that while the Governments employ one in four of the workforce, and collect tax from the lot, as well as indirect tax on every commodity used, they are not as likely to be affected by wage spirals as the general community. Witness the current outcry against Government extravagance!

What do we do about it? What can we? except complain, and the unprecedented industrial strife that seems to be rapidly gaining in impetus indicates that there is plenty of complaint at present. But for what...., More money, ...and so we go on.

Paymaster.

Dear Sir,

I would like to congratulate your new football scribe on his initial football report in the Valley Voice. He brings a new and refreshing style combined with expert knowledge of the game.

I am sure other readers would join me in wishing that he will stay on as your football reporter for a long time. I would like to know his name, or failing that I would like him to adopt a non de plume.

COLONEL SCOTT of Scamander is very glad to be home again. He has been in hospital in Hobart.

MISS VAL SCHIER has now arrived in Bankok. She is now working her way back home.

A WONDERFUL JOB is being done at Break-O-Day Gowns, Fingal where four girls are employed to make non-inflammable dressing gowns. The Manager, Mrs. Semmens, reports that orders are coming in very well. Over 400 gowns have been made since they commenced.

THANKYOU

The relatives of the late Janet Vincent of Mathinna, wish to thank all kind friends and relatives, for their floral tributes, cards, telegrams and personal expressions of sympathy received in our recent sad loss of our Dear Mother. As these were so numerous and many addresses unknown, will all accept this as our sincere thanks and gratitude, especially thanking the Doctor, Matron and Staff of the St. Marys Hospital for their untiring and devoted care. Also Miss M. Hayes, Pastor G. Clarke and Rev. T. Evans for assisting at the Burial service.

I would like to thank all friends, organisations and business houses in St. Marys and St. Helens for the lovely cards, flowers and inquiries during my stay in hospital. Would you all please accept my personal thanks?

THANKYOU

From the moment a child learns to speak he is taught parrot fashion to say, 'Ta!'. Later, it may become 'Tankoo' and 'Thankyou'. He is then reprimanded if he does not say 'Thankyou' or 'Thanks', when given something.

As we grow up, it becomes automatic to say 'Thank-you', whenever we receive something, be it a priceless gift or a 5c. bus ticket. Or is it? How often do we offend our friends by ommiting this small, timeless, effortless ceremony.....'He didn't even say 'Thankyou'.

As Christians we know that we can call on the Lord for our needs, be they great or small, and He will answer us.---'Ask and ye shall receive'. We ask, we receive, but do we always say thankyou? Or are we so relieved to be brought through a crisis or situation that we just don't bother ; we just take it for granted. We continually read of Jesus Himself giving thanks to His Father. Should we not, therefore, follow His good example and pause, having received blessings from above in whatever form, to say 'Thanks, God'. It costs nothing, takes approximately two seconds and requires no physical effort whatsoever. Therefore.....

'Let us give thanks unto God....It is very meet, right, and our bounden duty'.

JUST TO MAKE YOU LAUGH

How do I know my youth is all spent?
Well, my get up and go has got up and went.
But in spite of it all I'm able to grin
When I think of where my get up has been.

Old age is golden so I've heard said,
But sometimes I wonder when I get into bed,
With my ear in a drawer & my teeth in a cup,
My eyes on the table until I wake up.

As sleep dims my eyes I say to myself,
Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?

But I'm happy to say as I close the door,
My friends are the same, perhaps even more.

When I was young, my slippers were red,
I could kick my heels over my head.
When I grew older, my slippers were blue,
But still I could dance the whole night through.

Now I am old, my slippers are black.
I walk to the store and puff my way back.
The reason I know my youth is all spent,
Is my get up and go has got up and went.

But I don't mind when I think with a grin
Of all the grand places my get up has been,
And since I've retired from life's competition

My schedules all scheduled(with complete repetition). Cont' P.5

HEALTH NOTES

COLD WATER FOR SCALDS: The severity of the skin damage due to scalding may be reduced by rapid immersion in cold water.

A boy aged 16 months was sitting in his high chair when he pulled at a pot of tea and spilled it over himself. The father wrapped up the child and brought him to casualty. Tea leaves were found in the child's clothing. The child was admitted with an extensive area of scalded skin. The anterior abdominal skin and both legs had large areas which were weeping or vesiculated. He was treated with intravenous fluids and silver-nitrate paint. He subsequently required two skin-grafts to full thickness burns of the abdomen and right thigh. He was discharged well after 6 weeks in hospital.

A girl aged 18 months walked up to the table, pulled down a pot of tea which had been made two minutes before, and drenched herself. The father carried the child to the kitchen, put her in the sink, and turned the cold water on to her. She was fighting and screaming. After soaking the clothing the father noticed that the right arm was still out of the water and cooled the arm as well. When the mother undressed the child she found tea leaves inside the vest and the rest of the clothing. Subsequently there was found to be a small area of vesiculation on the volar aspect of the right forearm. This healed in a week, leaving no scar. There was no visible effect on the rest of the skin of the child. DAMAGE MAY BE PREVENTED by rapidly cooling the skin. IT IS IMPORTANT NOT TO REMOVE THE CLOTHES. The time taken in undressing allows time for the skin to be damaged by the hot fluid. Cold water quickly cools the skin and clothes together.

BADMINTON

Pennant roster matches finished last Monday night and final positions are Rossarden 44 points, St. Marys 32, Fingal Green 12 and Fingal Blue 8. The positions show the unfortunate variations in strength between the teams.

Rossarden looks set to win back the shield this year but cannot afford to relax, as the strong finishing Fingal Greens and a potentially dangerous St. Marys have their eyes on the shield too.

The Blues played well last Monday and went within 36 aces of St. Marys, which is not a lot over 12 games. Rossarden won its match against Fingal Green with good scores in the mixed doubles sealing their win. Next Monday, the 23rd, the two Fingal teams will play the first semi-final at Fingal. The following Monday, Rossarden will play St. Marys in the second semi-final.

On Saturday 14th July the Fingal Valley Association, played in the Country Challenge Series in Launceston and was soundly beaten five out of five matches. A full team could not be fielded and substitutes from Launceston were played. Due to its poor showing and inability to field a correct team this association may be excluded from next years Challenge Series.

On Sunday 29th July this association, plays the Lower Midlands Association in an Annual Shield Competition. The match will be played at Tunnack. In the last three matches, this association lost by less than 5 aces each time. Perhaps the shield will be ours this time if players are available for selection.

Three roster games to go and the four far from settled, a promoters dream, while last weeks results seemed to consolidate the four this wasn't really the case as St. Marys could slip out of the four, or could still make second place and St. Helens still have a chance to make the second rung, Fingal almost certainly have to win their remaining matches to make it and Campbelltown are far from certainties to hold their position.

Campbelltown: showed a big improvement in their win over Fingal and it is nice to see players like Davis, Leedham and Viney hitting their straps at the business end of the season, in spite of their showing on Saturday I wouldn't consider Avoca as pushovers in any of the coming games as they seem to produce their best when least expected.

St. Helens: continued their good form at the Bay and even though the Tigers kicked badly Cactus and his boys seemed to have the game well in hand, Derek Chapple was dominant around the ground and was ably supported by small men Coker, Barr, Stone and Krushka. Elwyn Williams had the better of the dual between himself and Wayne Freeman but Wayne showed how dangerous he can be if given any latitude at all by kicking two goals, one when Williams was down after a knock. Of the Tiger players, Ricky Freeman returned to form as did Les Newman, Billy Stone, Alan Lynch and Tony Rawnsley all showed plenty of determination. Both half back lines were in charge and this made the game really interesting particularly as the centre line was fairly even, however the ability of the Bays small men told and the tigers headed for home beaten but not disgraced.

Swansea: had a good win over Fingal who desperately needed the points. The Bulldogs are showing a lot more determination at home than away and this gives the lower teams the idea that the Red White and Blues are far from positive flag winners.

This weeks games should help to sort things out a little and I am going to stick my neck out and say that the ladder will be unchanged after the final siren next Saturday.

Campbelltown visit St. Marys where they will meet a greatly improved side and with McCarter having two runs under his belt (after being out injured) they can expect a lot more drive around the forward line. The big oval won't worry the Robins, but the locals should be able to adapt more quickly to the heavy ground and the tricky wind conditions that prevail at St. Marys. It appears that for the first time in weeks the tigers will be free from injuries and this in itself should add to their confidence. Donny Birrell has added bite to the forward line and this team player brings the best out of those around him. Gary Tapp has been going well for Campbelltown but doesn't seem to give his best at St. Marys and this could add pressure to the solid Campbelltown backline.

Fingal and St. Helens always turn on a good game, but the swans with two good wins in a row and Fingal facing up after a loss, it looks like the Bay to me as they are showing a lot of determination and knowing that a loss would put them in front of the eight ball. Fingal need to be certain that players like Greg Clements, Greg Sulzberger, Higgins and Bailey fire, but St. Helens have all round strength.

Swansea and Avoca meet in the other match and even though Dennis Williams is back in the Avoca senior side, it is hard to see the talented Swansea side being worried much by Avoca who have been kept going by determined efforts from Rex Anderson, Michael Brown, Donnachy and one or two others.

FISHING NEWS

Scamander Angling Club will hold its first contest for the 1973/74 season at Foru Mile Creek beach next Sunday. Fishing times are from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. and entry and weigh-in will be at the fourth cattle ramp which is at the Northern end of the beach. Rough weather this week should improve conditions. It has been reported that good black-back were landed at Wrinklers last week around four lbs. It would be a welcome sight if a few this size could be caught in a contest for a change.

St. Helens Surf Angling Club conducted an event at Swimcart on Sunday 8th July, the morning after their Annual Dinner. This probably accounts for the top weight being only 14 oz. (and a kelpy at that). St. Helens Game Fishing Club have listed their first Annual Meeting & Dinner for Saturday 4th August. One of the guests of honour will be the Hon. B.K. Miller M.L.C.

STAR PROBE

By Pegasus

Fortnight beginning July 20, 1973.

ARIES March 21 - April 20

You may feel that a lifemate is acting very harshly with you if married. If unmarried, you may be in for a romance that is going to win you, but never be what you expected. You may hear from a long lost friend.

Best days 21st, 26th & 30th.

TAURUS April 21 - May 20

If married, do nothing that could be construed and disloyal - don't even smile at anyone in a way that could be interpreted as flirtatious. A new start in some field of latent interest can stimulate your hobby.

Best days 22nd, 25th & 31st.

GEMINI May 21 - June 20

Nerves are in a bad way and you may need medical attention. Your talents may be called upon to do something unusual. You will be well rewarded. You may be taught to take over a responsible position.

Best days 21st, 24th, & 28th.

CANCER June 21 - July 22

You may go in for some new activities and be quite varied in your life now. A flash of intuition will clear up a matter that has been puzzling you. Be hospitable - invite others into your home.

Best days 23rd, 28th & 31st.

LEO July 23 - August 22

Be cautious of the role you plan when controversial subjects are under dispute. You have a good chance of hearing of an engagement or announcing one.

Best days 24th, 27th & 31st.

VIRGO August 23 - September 22

Correspondence with an older relative needs to be handled carefully. A friend at work may offer some worthwhile suggestions. Listen! Get in touch with a friend who lives a distance away. Best days 20th, 23rd & 30th.

LIBRA September 23 - October 22

You may undergo a change in taste this month. Be happy with associates at work, make them cheerful with your own optimism. Avoid arguments with your loved one, whether married or not.

Best days 20th, 25th and 30th.

SCORPIO October 23 - November 22

In speaking to someone of a mutual friend you may be very clever and sharp, but it is not advisable to make too sharp a remark and wound another. A good time to discard things which have been annoying you.

Best days 22nd, 27th and 31st.

SAGITTARIUS November 23 - December 21

There may be some financial difficulties to iron out and your swift action may be demanded at the end of July. Someone who dislikes you may take it out by criticising your activities not skills.

Best days 24th, 28th and 30th.

CAPRICORN December 22 - January 19

Try to add to savings for your vacation so that you can pay the way for your family or yourself. Use a lot of discipline. Be very reliable where older relative is concerned.

Best days 23rd, 26th and 31st.

AQUARIUS January 20 - February 18

You may travel with some enjoyment at the end of the month; a young companion is desirable. Your splendid insight will work for you and keep you alert.

Best days 22nd, 26th and 29th.

PISCES February 19 - March 20

Family troubles can put a dent in your finances and you can become really upset about this. Your abilities bring compliments if you show action. Assert yourself for success.
