TALKING POINT

FISHING FLOUNDERS?

The response to the editorial on the future of fishing was encouraging as a number of people advised that they had made some approach to various members of Parliament. It was also pleasing to hear on A.B.C. radio a statement by a member of the Tourist Council, Mr. Brian Winspear, suggesting the reservation of beachereas for the sole use of amateur fisherman and tourists. Scamander Angling Club and Scamander Progress Association both wrote to the Minister for Fisheries and the Angling Club has already received the usual unsatisfactory reply from him. Quote "My officers have been investigating the problems being encountered when this kind of fishing activity takes place adjacent to areas used by amateur fisherman. However, the evidence todate is not sufficiently strong to warrant the prohibition of this kind of fishing." Unquote. Firstly, the beach netting does not take place in areas adjacent, but right on the spot. Secondly, if the officers would inspect Club records, the strongest possible evidence is available. The St. Helens Game Fishing requested the Minister Club have to meet a delegation hen he visits St. Helens in the near future.

Scamender Angling Club held a surf contest at Wrinklers where 21 entrants fished for five hours and only one fish was caught. This must surely be some evidence for the Minister. The lucky winner was the old master, Jack Midson. Next event will be at Four Mile on Sunday 20th October from 2 to 7 pm.

AUSTCARE FREEDOM FROM HUNGER

Last Sunday's doorknock appears to have been the most successful ever in the St. Marys area. Collectors in St. Marys and Cornwall have handed $436.06 to District Organizer, Pastor G. Clarke. For the statistically minded this is a 31% increase on 1973 figures.

Donations were received from 254 homes in the area, the average donation being $1.72 which we believe will far exceed state and national averages - a very commendable effort. The Valley Voice congratulates all who supported the "Hunger fight" whether donor or collector.

HOW LOW CAN YOU GO?

THAT SINKING FEELING.

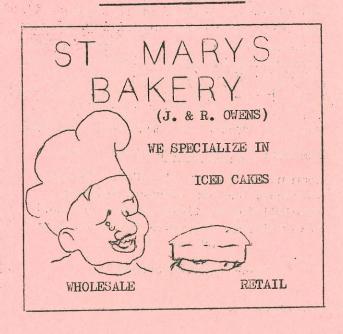

St. Helens' spanking new nursing centre is in a hole. A hole which is too deep, Health Minister (Mr. Farquhar)has admitted. Liberal Party Deputy Leader (Mr. Bill Beattie) raised the matter last week in State Parliament.

During debate on Loan Fund Estimates, Mr. Beattie noted that the nursing centre appeared to be too low in the ground. "Was the foundation hole dug too deep?", he asked.

Mr. Farquhar admitted the error. The foun - dation excavation was 18 inches (500 mm) deeper than had been required, he said. As a result, a more elaborate drainage system than initially anticipated was being installed. He hoped the building's appearance would not suffer.

"Such a mistake is inexcusable", Mr. Beattie said.

He suggested that the affair should be looked into in depth.

The Agony of God

I listen to the agony of God-I who am fed,
Who never yet went hungry for a day.
I see the dead —
The children starved for lack of bread
I see, and try to pray.

I listen to the agony of God-I who am warm, Who never yet lacked a sheltering home. In dull alarm The dispossessed of hut and farm Aimless and transient roam.

I listen to the agony of God—
I who am strong,
With health, and love, and laughter ir my soul.

I see a throng Of stunted children reared in wrong, And wish to make them whole.

I listen to the agony of God —
But know full well
That not until I share their bitter cry—
Earth's pain and hell —
Can God within my spirit dwell
To bring His Kingdom nigh.

HEALTH NOTES

OTHER PEOPLE'S CIGARETTE SMOKE

The young woman stepped off the aircraft eyes streaming, nose red, with a nagging

"Good heavens," said the friends meeting her. "Fancy travelling with an awful cold like that."

But in fact, her "cold" wasn't a cold at all. She was suffering from an excess of tobacco smoke - breathed on her by other people. For some time now, doctors have known that the health hazards of smoking are not always restricted to the smoker. Other people in the same room or car or aircraft can be affect-

The person smoking actually inhales less than half the tar and nicotine in a cigarette, The rest - along Some remains in the butt. with carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide, hydrogen cyanide, arsenic and cadmium also found in tobacco smoke - drifts into the atmosphere to be breathed in by anybody else standing This is particularly so in enclosed nearby. spaces, such as rooms, buses, cars and rest-Tests have shown that in a poorly aurants. ventilated smoke-filled room, a non-smoker absorbed nearly as much carbon monoxide as the smoker.

Think about this and decide what you can do for yourself and others.

LAUGH LET'S

Didn't you promise to be a good boy? FATHER: SON: Yes, dad.

And didn't I promise to give you a FATHER: thrashing if you weren't?

Yes, dad. But I've broken my promise, so you don't have to keep yours.

YOU AND THE LAW

I wonder how many drivers when they are stopped by Police in a road check, can produce their drivers licence at the time.

Not too many, experience has shown that about one driver in three carries his driver's licence with him when he's at the wheel.

A lot of drivers are under the impression that they don't have to carry their licence or produce it to the Police on demand, but instead they have seven days in which to produce it at their nearest police station, should they be stopped in a road block.

Well lets clear up this mystery once and for all time. In actual fact the driver who holds a driver's licence shall produce that licence to a police officer upon demand. There and then, at the time and not at a later date. Seven days is allowed a driver to produce his licence only if the driver has a reasonable excuse for not producing it on demand.

Lets look at what is a reasonable excuse for failing to produce the licence on the spot at the time when the driver is being checked.

I feel the law interprets a reasonable excuse or meaning, that the driver is not in receipt of his licence due to the following reasons.

- (a) it has been lost, destroyed in a recent fire
- (b) has been stolen
- (c) has not been returned from the transport department.

I could think of lots more reasons that could be classified as being a reasonable excuse. Surely the fact that it has been left at home, is in the dressing table drawer in the bedroom, is not a reasonable excuse for not carrying it with you.

This certainly is not what is meant by a reasonable excuse, yes its an excuse for forgetfulness, but unfortunately the law has not allowed for ignorance or forgetfulness.

You are required to carry with you your Drivers Licence if you have one and you drive a vehicle. If you don't carry it with you and you are checked by the Police, well then I suggest that you think up a reasonable excuse, and don't use; I've forgot it, it's at home, that won't work.

H.F. Alomes, Inspector.

PRESS RELEASE

TASMANIAN HYDATIDS ERADICATION COUNCIL

The Tasmanian Hydatids Eradication Council is to lose its Government subsidy at the end of 1974. This decision was made recently by the Treasurer, Mr. Reece, for economic reasons and on the recommendation of the Miniser for Health.

The Council will, however, continue to operate as a voluntary body with its original aim - the eradication of hydatids in Tasmania.

The Secretary of the Council, Mr. J.T. Pickmere will be offered a position with the Health Department and will act as a part time Secretary to the 25 member voluntary Hydatid Erasication Council.

The Council will maintain its liasion with representatives of the Department of Agriculture. The Department of Agriculture will continue to energe cally pursue its hydatid programme.

Mr. J.D. McConnell, Veterinary Specialist Officer in charge of the Department's hydatid control programme said at a recent meeting of THEC that "The Council had played an important part in the planning of the campaign and was a valuable organisation as an instrument for developing policy."

He had valued the 'give and take' attitude that had existed between the official and non-official bodies involved in the campaign and hoped that this realtionship could be maintained.

THEC was originally formed in 1962 by Dr. T.C. Beard and was to a great degree responsible for creating an awareness of the disease in Tasmania in the early days of the campaign.

It is proposed to continue with the production of the quarterly Hydatid News Letter as a joint effort of the Departments of Health and Agriculture. The THEC office in Hobart will be closed on 30th September, 1974 and the Secretary will be on 3 months long service leave until the end of the year.

Urgent mail will be dealt with, but clers for slide lectures should be held over until the New Year. THEC will retain its post box No. 407D, G.P.O., Hobart.

FOOTBALL

by Place Kicks

TRIBUTE TO ONE OF TASMANIA'S BEST SCHOOL-BOYS COACHES.

Mr. A.O. Barker is completing a book all about Australian Rules Football. I have had a preview and I feel his work will be a fine contribution to our great game. He has listed more than one hundred points to be followed such as kicking, marking, hand ball, ground play, dodging, procedure for bouncing the ball. Also how to hold the ball, how to approach the game on soft grounds, windy days, diet for players, and every facet of the game one could possibly imagine. A pretty comprehensive works in great detail and covering more subjects than I even knew existed.

Mr. Barker, now in his nineties, is certain-buriness of earning a living which in this ly a legend in his own time, and many case was blacksmithing; so he sold his tributes have been paid to this grand old house, and brought his wife and her four man of football.

He has spent many years on the N.W. Coast. He has been Headmaster at Don, Westbury, Latrobe, New Town, Invermay and of course St. Marys. These days he enjoys gardening and writing and he has written about Tasmania's early settlements and Eastern Australian Bushrangers. He has also written a brief history of all towns from Latrobe to Stanley.

For Mr. Barker former headmaster and coach extraordinaire, the proper coaching of youngsters has been his hobbyhorse since he first gathered school teams together firstly at Don and then St. Marys, almost 60 years ago.

His philosophy on the subject and his remarkable knowledge of the game are still, at over 90 years of age, projected as enthusiastically as they were then.

Mr. Barker did not have the opportunity of playing football in his day and it seems that he was inspired and driven on to see that all the lads under his care DID have the opportunity which was denied him.

I would like to personally pay a tribute to this great coach and more important, fine gentleman and great Tasmanian.

EDUCATION WITH A DIFFERENCE!!

Family life is important! Pupils of Fingal School attended a "wedding" ceremony at school last Thursday afternoon. The ceremony, similar to a real wedding service, with Reader and suitable songs and music, was for members of the V - Vl class, with the rest of the school attending.

"Bridg" was Leonie Vincent, Tony Ward the "Groom". The bridal party was beautifully dressed for the occasion, "men" with camellias for button holes, "ladies" with their bouquets. Little Sharon Smith and Craig Woods were flower girl and page boy.

"JUST YARNIN' ABOUT GRAY"

As you listen to the rainfall averages over Tasmania have you ever noticed how often Gray competes with Lake Margaret for the highest figure?

And have you ever connected this fact with the name "Gray"? You were correct, for it is a case of cause and effect, for the first man to live on that watershed while gazing across the misty heights called it a "gray hole", and the name has remained and been accepted by common usage.

That man was William Meinas, an immigrant from Germany, who like many another burgher of his time grew tired of being forced to waste his life fighting battles for Bismark instead of getting on with the serious business of earning a living which in this case was blacksmithing; so he sold his house, and brought his wife and her four daughters to Tasmania.

William worked at the Seymour mine until flooding caused it to close down, then with his pack on his back he walked up the coast, up and over the hills beside where the St. Marys Pass was later built, and on to where he had already decided was the best place to make a little farm. This can now be located slightly N.W. of Macleay's corner. but was the only habitation in that area in those days. While living in a hollow tree the sturdy Meinas built a three roomed cottage from bark for his family, which was later covered with shingles. He took up 50 acres of land to begin with and began to clear the land. However as people have to eat while they wait for crops to grow Meinas had to seek work elsewhere to sustain his family, and there was a job available at Chain-of-Lagoons but no time to get there down the coast the way he'd come up Meinas made the first track over the Elephant to shorten the journey. Keeping to the ridges as much as possible he still had to cut a way through the undergrowth in many places, and took 12 hours to reach his destination, but the track was marked for future use.

Later on when money was short again Meinas walked all the way to Lottah to work at the Anchor mine. Men were entirely responsible for their families then before there was any government assistance.

The study was part of the grade VI Social Science course to help children to know and understand the fullness of the promises binding man and wife and the three way relationship of the service, man woman and God.

The service was performed with repsect and reverence, the two children making their promises quietly; other children following the prayers and singing. Fun came afterwards with a most enjoyable "wedding breakfast" complete with "telegrams" and toasts. This was education in a deep sense with strong involvement, with respect and reverence, with fun and laughter.
