EDITORIAL : ANZAC DAY

Next Sunday, 25th April, will be the 61st anniversary of Anzac Day. On that date in 1915, men of the Australian and New Zealand Army Corps went ashore on the beaches of the Gallipoli Peninsula. The campaign was a military disaster. The combined British forces lost 115,000 men killed or wounded, the French 47,000 while our Turkish enemy estimated their total casualties at 350,000. The eventual evacuation of the Allied forces has only been equalled by that at Dunkirk in May 1940. The official history of World War one reads "Though the expeditionary forces of the two Dominions were only in their infancy, and afterwards fought with success in greater battles, no campaign was so identified with them as this. In no unreal sense it was on the 25th of April 1915 that the consciousness of Australian nationhood was born." And from this concept came the vision of an Anzac Commemoration Day.

It is necessary to understand just what this day means to the ex-servicemen - it is not a glorification of war, but a day of remembrance and reunion. Throughout both countries the presence of men and women at the various cenotaphs and war memorials is a symbolic visit to the graves of the fallen, scattered throughout the lands and oceans of the world.

Because of this, it is a day which is observed by their relatives, their widows and their children. Therefore it is a day which could be and should be observed by people of all ages and not just ex-servicemen. Today, we have in our community, citizens who are not Australians by birth but we invite them to share the day with us for many of them have their own memories of war and their own National days in which they can no longer take part. Also, in the Australian community today we have a population half of which are under 29 years and one third are under 16. "None can speak more eloquently of peace than those who have known the tragedy of war," and we who have known war would like to pass on this message to those who have not. Anzac Day provides this opportunity.

This day, we remember the wounded, the sick and the maimed, all those who suffer from war. Many carry secret wounds, wounds of the mind which are not outwardly visible - no man woman or child can experience war and not be effected in some way. The ex-servicemen will be remembering the bad times and the good times - we have memories of battle, of bombing and of monotony. We will recall the inspiring voice of Winston Churchill, the voice of the Traitor, Joyce, from Berlin, calling us "rats" and that of Tokyo Rose. We remember visiting other lands and meeting people of many races. All these memories are so deeply impressed on our sub-conscious minds that it takes little to bring them back, often at the most unexpected times. Sometimes it is a particular word or phrase, a place name or even a song when suddenly, the present surroundings or company just fade and you are back in the past. No doubt, many readers have experienced this. So, to us, Anzac Day is a day of remembrance and will be as long as we live. We shall continue to observe this day on every succeeding 25th of April no matter what alterations may be suggested or made to this day by other people. We would plead with those in authority not to lower the significance of Anzac Day by making it just "another long weekend". We gather together on Anzac Day to remember that over 100,000 Australians have died for their country. Over 2,000 years ago, a Greek called Pericles wrote these words. "They gave their lives. For that public gift, they received a praise that never ages and a tomb most glorious - not so much the tomb in which they lie, but that in which their fame survives, to be remembered forever when occasion comes for word or deed". Do not let us forget this day of remembrance, the tomb in which our Anzacs lie.

RETARDED CHILDREN "WOMAN OF THE YEAR QUEST"

Newnorfolk Entrant. Mrs. Mary Munning
6 Fourth Avenue
New Norfolk. 7450.

Object of the Quest is to raise money to support these children in sheltered workshops, to learn to use their skills and to be taught, as we find with a lot of patience and kindness they will respond, and this all takes time and money (for staff materials and shelter). Also we need money for Retarded Wings at Hospitals throughout Tasmania to help in learning programmes. Throughout the last few years the money raised has built a big workshop and Hostel on the Eastern side of Hobart so more children are learning to support themselves in a little way.

These children we find need a lot of help in more ways than people realise and its now starting to show out, with the help of the Quest and the public these things can give them a start in life.

TOUCHE...

Would anyone have a spare pair of shoes? A local contractor went to Launceston recently to do a spot of shopping. He was waiting to cross over a street with a change of lights and happened to glance down and saw a black shoe very close to him. He thought to himself that someone was standing a bit close. He crossed over and there was that black shoe. Yes.. he was wearing one black and one tan shoe.

Tenderness and kindness are not signs of weakness and despair, but mainifestations of strength and resolution.
 Out worst fault is our preoccupation with the faults of others.

 Man's value is in the few things he creates and not in the many possessions he amasses.

CORNWALL COAL COMPANY TO REOPEN CORNWALL SOON!

Mr A.B. Lohrey M.H.A. said he had received this information from Mr.J.G.Symonds mining Director in response to a letter concerning the danger of underground fires at the mine. The Senior Engineer Mr.H.Murchie investigated the matter and reported that the underground fire was sealed off 20 years ago and that there is no evidence to suggest that any hazard exists from that source. However an illegal grass fire 3 years ago set fire to material dumped on the hill side and set fire to the mine. This fire is still smouldering, but as the coal seams are worked out in this area it could not spread to underground workings. It is anticipated that it will burn itself out in the near future. The Cornwall Coal Co still lease the area, so people entering there are trespassing. The Cornwall Coal Co intends to reopen the coal mine in the near future and would not wish to have unauthorised persons within the leased area.

FISHING.

Scamander Angling Club held a successful surf contest at Wrinklers Beach on Good Friday. There were 40 entrants and for the first time this season, quite a lot of fish were caught and weighed. The old master Jack Midson, took first prize once again, Michael Spilsbury was second and Lindsay Sutton third. Ladies trophy went to Miss Yvonne Oldham and the best junior was C. Hoodless. Several sharks were caught, the heaviest by Vaughan Oldham. Biggest catch of the day occurred outside the contest when a young man hooked his girl friend on Scamander Bridge. I can't print the story so you will have to ask Gif Gadsby to tell you about it. The game fishing contest conducted by the Game Fishing Club of Northern Tasmania at St. Helens had to be cancelled on Easter Saturday as the barway was unsafe. The 33 boats did put to sea on Sunday and some caught good sized Bluefin, but the Barracouta were a nuisance. Winning boat was Fishers Three crewed by Phil Fisher and his two sons. Second was John Davey, of St. Helens club in Tonka, third was Torito, fourth Frank Titley in his Twilighter, fifth Jim Greenup in Miss Nova and sixth was Miss Behave skippered by Keith Tucker. The Fisheries boat made a check during the day but there was no truth in the rumour that they had a breathalizer with them.

THANKS.

The Residents of Media Park St. Helens wish to thank the children who prepared Easter Gifts for them, it was greatly Appreciated, especially as the children had earned the money.
