COMMON CENSUS Last Wednesday, 30th June 1976 was census night throughout Australia. Every household in the country received, or should have received a census form from one of the thousands of part time collectors employed by the Commonwealth.

Unfortunately during this census, the collectors job has been made a little more difficult by a changing public attitude towards such fact finding enterprises. This change in attitude (last census apparently little public resentment was noted) has mainly been due to adverse criticism by some public figures.

One particular census collector was threatened to have the dogs set upon her if she was not of the property within a few minutes. A dear old lady of about 70-75 years of age told this collector in no uncertain words what to do with her census form. It's a hard life for a census collector.

Whether or not this criticism is completely justified is open to doubt and as one often suspects in these cases political capital may be the main object of the criticism rather than genuine concern for the welfare of the Australian citizen.

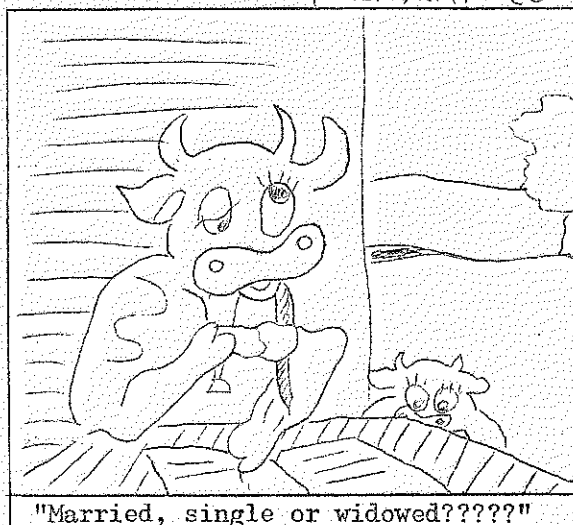

The form its self although seemingly formidable is in fact a rather innocuous document which deals mainly in ordinary mundane questions of house, jobs, education and racial origins. The average person would no doubt answer any of these questions voluntarily to anyone who happened to ask officially or otherwise.

But in spite of this, giving such information to a faceless officialdom may hold certain terrors to some people who suspect they are vulnerable in one way or another.

Surely a simple way of over coming this fear in future census collections would be to legislate for the deletion of personal names on the census forms.

TOUCHE

WE hear that a St. Marys Businessman has that much spare time that he go's to work twice in the one day (and very early too)
He looked very sheepish and that's no bull.

ISN'T IT FUNNY

Isn't it funny how everyone blames the other chaps when things don't work or go wrong, but, when they do work do the other chaps get the praise?

PRUNING TIME

It's time to prune berry fruits such as raspberries, currants and gooseberries. Not forgetting roses and hydrangea. Get to work on the compost heap you will need it come this spring. The local farmers shearing shed would be a good place to visit.

On June 20th, 50 friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr & Mrs Col Royle to help in the celebration of their Ruby Wedding. A very enjoyable day was had by all, sampling the delicious food and chatting with old acquaintances, many whom had not met for over 30 years. Many joyful memories returned as the original members of the bridal party posed for photos. The entertainment ended at midnight with all the guests eagerly awaiting a similar celebration in 10 years time.

A LITTLE BIT OF PAST

WELDBOROUGH, once known as Thomas Plains Weldborough was the scene of considerable tin mining activity. Tasmania's Chinese labour force of 900 made Weldborough their headquarters. A camp and a Joss House were erected and here Chinese customs were observed. The Joss House was removed and re-erected in the Queen Victoria museum, Launceston. Severe immigration restrictions cut re-enforcements and the settlement gradually declined. The Weldborough Pass with its spectacular mountain scenery and dense rain forests is traversed on the Main Highway between Scottsdale and St. Helens.

Any object going fast makes vibrations in the air, this would account for our poor old Pass sliding rapidly down hill.

Munning and Miss Barbara Smith of New Norfolk, had a pramathon last week, they pushed each other from New Norfolk to the G.P.O. in

They started at 8.15 am and finished at the SCAMANDER ANGLING CLUB held their annual general meeting last Saturday evening. Office bearers elected were:- Patron: D.E.C. Scott, President: G.R. Gadshy, Vice President: G.A. Luck, Secretary: A.R. Jackson, Treasurer: W.J. Stone, Committee: G. Sachse, N. Apted, H. Gratzner, C. Turner and W. Cain. The annual report (reprinted hereunder) was read by the secretary and the Treasurer revealed a healthy bank balance. It was resolved that annual subscriptions and contest entry fees should remain the same as last year. After the meeting, members and their wives and friends enjoyed the annual dinner at which end of season trophies were presented. Club championship for the heaviest scale fish caught during the season was won by that consistent performer Jack Midson while the champion lady was Mrs. Lorna Apted. The raffle for the rod made and donated by Glan Sachse was won by Bill Cain. First event for the 1976/77 season will be held on Sunday 1st August at Wrinklers Beach from 11 am - 3 p.m.

ST. HELENS SURF ANGLING CLUB will hold their annual general meeting and dinner at the Bay View Hotel on Saturday 10th July. Tuna are still being caught down South and next Sunday, a party of St. Helens Game Fishing Club members will have one more try to land some bluefin. If weather allows a visit out to the Shelf, they could be lucky.

SCAMANDER ANGLING CLUB....ANNUAL REPORT FOR SEASON 1975/76.

the annual dinner indicate the interest shown in the affairs of the Club. During the season, eleven contests were conducted including the annual inter-club contest with our friends, St. Helens Surf Angling Club. We are pleased to report that the event was narrowly won by our Club and the shield will be decorating our unofficial headquarters at least until next year. A total of 323 entries were received for all contests, making an average of almost 30 per cent. A total of 43 trophies have already been presented, with a further 7 to be awarded tonight at the annual dinner. Overall catches ranged from average to nil at the last contest. A noticeable feature has been the disappearance of flathead, only 2 being weighed in for the season. Most unusual catches were a surfie by Vern Jones and a stray dog by Wes Stone. The late Syd Sutton still records the heaviest salmon at 5lb 1 oz. The Committee are pleased at the support given by members and their friends at the contests and are grateful to all those people who have generously donated trophies. We feel that the Club has established a reputation for fishing for fun and as a result, all contests have been without blemish. The Committee look forward to a similar situation in 1976/77.
